Restricted Marketing – Rule 21.14 of the Listing Rules

Shares in the Company will not be marketed to the public in Hong Kong. Potential investors should note that, in order for the Company to comply with the relevant requirements of Rule 21.14 of the Listing Rules, the minimum subscription size per placee is 500,000 Placing Shares (HK$515,000) and thereafter in integral multiples of the board lot size of 100,000 Shares (HK$103,000) (excluding brokerage of 0.5%, SFC transaction levy of 0.003% and Stock Exchange trading fee of 0.005%). As such, there will be at least 300 places each holding no less than 500,000 Shares upon listing of the Shares.

The Directors have instructed the Lead Placing Agent and the Placing Agents to strictly follow the aforementioned Placing structure, and that no marketing activities will be carried out in Hong Kong other than to Professional Investors.

Limits on holding – Rule 21.04(4) of the Listing Rules

Potential investors are reminded that under Rule 21.04(4) of the Listing Rules, at the time of listing, no person shall control 30% (or such lower percentage as may from time to time be specified in the Takeovers Code as being the level for triggering a mandatory general offer) or more of the votes exercisable at any general meeting of the Company. For this purpose, the interests of all the Associates of a Shareholder and any persons acting in concert (within the meaning of the Takeovers Code) with that Shareholder will be aggregated.

Past financial results – Paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance

According to paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance, the Company is required to include in this document a statement (“Statement”) as to the gross trading income or sales turnover and a report (“Accountants’ Report”) by the reporting accountants of the Company with respect to profits and losses, assets and liabilities of the Company in respect of each of the three financial years immediately preceding the issue of this document. The Company has in fact not conducted any business and has no trading track record since its incorporation, nor does it have any assets. In the circumstances, the Company has applied to the SFC for an exemption pursuant to section 342A of the Companies Ordinance from strict compliance with the requirements under paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance on the grounds that:

- (i) the Company, being an investment company for the purpose of Chapter 21 of the Listing Rules, is not required to have any track record period to be qualified for listing under Rule 21.04 of the Listing Rules; and
- (ii) the Company has not conducted any business since its date of incorporation on 1 February 2010. It is therefore not meaningful for investors and the Company to prepare the Statement and the Accountants’ Report. In the circumstances, the inclusion in this document of the Statement and the Accountants’ Report in strict compliance with the requirements of paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance is irrelevant in the case of the Company, in the sense that the limited information to be presented therein would not be meaningful to investors generally.

The exemption has been granted by the SFC under section 342A of the Companies Ordinance.

RISK FACTORS

Investment in the Company entails a high degree of risk and is suitable only for sophisticated investors for whom an investment in the Company does not represent a complete investment program and who fully understand and are capable of bearing the risks. Prospective investors should carefully consider the investment objective, policies and restrictions of the Company as described in this document. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to achieve its investment objective or that investors will receive a return on their capital. Shares in the Company are not redeemable at the option of investors. The Company does not expect an active secondary market to develop in the Shares. Accordingly, an investment should be made only by those persons who can sustain a loss of their entire investment. Investment results may vary substantially over time and on a monthly, quarterly or annual basis and the value of an investor's investment may substantially decline as well as substantially appreciate. Prospective investors should carefully consider the following factors, which do not purport to be a complete list of all risks and potential conflicts of interest involved in an investment in the Company.

The Company is subject to the principal risks described below. Some or all of these risks may adversely affect the Company's Net Asset Value, yield, total return and/or its ability to meet its objectives.

Principal Risk Factors

No assurance of investment return

The Company's task of identifying and evaluating investment opportunities, managing investments and realizing a significant return for investors is challenging. Many organizations operated by persons of competence and integrity have been unable to make, manage and realize on such investments successfully. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to invest its capital on attractive terms or generate returns for its investors.

No right to redemption and limited secondary market of Shares

Shares of the Company cannot be redeemed at the option of Shareholders.

The only means of realization of the Shares for Shareholders is by disposal on the Stock Exchange, subject to there being sufficient liquidity. No Shares will be marketed to the public in Hong Kong under the Placing. Thus the Company does not expect an active secondary market to develop in the Shares. Investors should not expect that they will necessarily be able to realise, within a period which they would otherwise regard as reasonable, or at all, their investment in the Company.

Risk of borrowing

Under the Company's Articles, the Directors may exercise the Company's power to borrow money.

RISK FACTORS

Generally, the Company will not exceed aggregate borrowings of 25% of the Net Asset Value of the Company at the time of any borrowing. If the Company cannot pay its loans when they fall due, it may need to liquidate its underlying assets at potentially unfavourable prices. The impact on investors of such a liquidation of the Company's underlying assets may be that the investors could face minimal or no returns on any investments made in the Company.

It is possible for the Company to have total borrowings exceeding 25% of its Net Asset Value. This is because the borrowing limit of 25% is based on the latest available Net Asset Value of the Company at the time the borrowing is made. If the Net Asset Value of the Company subsequently decreases, whether as a result of a repurchase or dividend of Shares (if and when made) or a fall in the market value of its assets, the amount of its borrowings as a percentage of its Net Asset Value could exceed 25% of its then Net Asset Value. Such increase in the leverage of the Company would have an impact on the risk profile of the Company as well as on the profitability of the Company resulting from a higher percentage of its income being required to service the interest payments on those borrowings.

No business track record

Although the Investment Manager has a business track record, the Company is a newly established investment company with no business track record and no investments have been identified yet for the Company. There can be no assurance that the historical information on the Investment Manager will in any respect be indicative of how they will perform in relation to the Company. In any event, the Company's future profit and value are reliant on the expertise of the Directors, the directors of the Investment Manager and the performance of investee companies. It should be noted that the Investment Manager does not have experience managing private equity investments.

Unidentified investments

The Company has not identified any particular investments to make from the net proceeds of the Placing. It will make investments on the basis of opportunities as they may arise. Therefore, prospective investors must rely on the ability of the Investment Manager to identify and make investments consistent with the Company's objectives. Shareholders will not have the opportunity to evaluate the relevant economic, financial and other information which will be utilized by the Company in deciding whether or not to make a particular investment.

Shares may trade at a discount or premium to the Net Asset Value

Shares of the Company, which is a closed-ended investment company, are not redeemable at the option of Shareholders. The only means of realization of the Shares for Shareholders is by disposal on the Stock Exchange, subject to there being sufficient liquidity. However, Shares may, depending on the supply and demand, trade at a significant discount to the Net Asset Value per Share from time to time.

RISK FACTORS

Investors should not expect that they will necessarily be able to realise, within a period which they would otherwise regard as reasonable, or at all, their investment in the Company, nor can they be certain that they will be able to realise their investment on a basis which necessarily reflects the full value of the underlying investments held by the Company.

Dilution from subsequent issues of Shares

The Directors reserve the right to issue additional Shares following the initial Placing. Generally such Shares may be issued at, or above, the Net Asset Value per Share (plus any applicable placing commission, trading fees, etc) as at the previous Valuation Date as determined by the Directors in the absolute discretion.

However, with the approval of a resolution of the Company in general meeting (passed by a majority of not less than two-thirds), the Directors may issue such additional Shares at a price per Share below the previous Net Asset Value per Share as at the previous Valuation Date, provided always that the price per Share shall be at or above the prevailing traded price of the Shares on the Stock Exchange as at the previous Business Day.

If additional Shares are issued at a price per Share below the prevailing Net Asset Value per Share, the Net Asset Value attributable to the Shares of existing Shareholders will be diluted. Investors cannot be certain that they will be able to realise their investment on a basis which necessarily reflects the full value of the underlying investments held by the Company.

Investment in equity securities

The value of the Company (which invests primarily in equity securities) will be affected by changes in stock markets and changes in the value of individual securities as well as other factors. At times, stock markets and individual securities can be volatile and prices can change substantially in short periods of time. This risk will affect the value of the Company, which will fluctuate as the value of its holdings of equity securities fluctuates.

Investment in emerging markets

Potential investors should note that investment in emerging markets, such as the PRC, carry additional risks to those inherent in other investment. In particular, potential investors should note that investment in any emerging market carries a higher risk than investment in a developed market. For example, emerging markets may afford a lower level of legal protection to investors. Also, certain countries place certain controls on foreign ownership and certain countries also apply accounting standards and auditing practices which do not conform with internationally accepted accounting principles, with the result that there is less publicly available information or information which is presented on a basis consistent with that applied in more developed economies.

Future distribution

The principal investment objective of the Company is to seek long-term capital appreciation. The Company's investment portfolio is not expected to generate significant dividend income. It is therefore not expected that the Company will have significant distributable income after expenses available for distribution by way of dividend. Any distribution will be made at the discretion of the Directors and may be either from profit, reserves of the Company (including share premium account) or any amount lawfully available for distribution.

Dependence on key personnel

The Investment Manager is substantially dependent upon the expertise of certain key personnel. The key personnel of the Investment Manager are Mr. Wang Junyan and Mr. Craig B. Lindsay. While such key individuals plan to fulfil their duties to the Investment Manager for the term of the Company, the Company could be adversely affected if anyone of them became unable or unwilling to do so. Furthermore, the Investment Manager does not carry keyman insurance on any key personnel. In the event the Investment Manager should lose the services of any of these key personnel, the Company may not be able to successfully avail itself of new personnel with the requisite skills, knowledge, relationships or experience to enhance the incumbent management. Neither the Company nor the Investment Manager maintain keyman insurance for these key personnel.

Forward-looking statements

This document contains forward-looking statements and descriptions of goals and objectives. Although these forward-looking statements and stated goals and objectives are based upon assumptions which the Investment Manager believe are reasonable, actual results of operations and achievements may differ materially from the statements, goals, and objectives set forth in this document. General economic conditions are not predictable, particularly in China, and can have a material adverse impact on the reliability of projections.

Non-controlling investments

Listing Rule 21.04(3) provides that the Company may not, either on its own or in conjunction with any connected person of the Company, take legal, or effective, management control of underlying investments and in any event will not own or control 30% or more (or such other percentage as may from time to time be specified in the Takeovers Code as being the level for triggering a mandatory general offer) of the voting rights in any one company or body. As such, the Company may only acquire minority interests in any company or property in which it invests, may rely on independent third-party management or strategic partners with respect to the operation of a company or property in which it invests, or may only acquire a participation in a property underlying an investment, and therefore may not be able to exercise control over the management of such company or investment. If additional funds are raised through the issue of new equity or equity-linked securities, other than on a pro rata basis to their existing shareholders, the Company's interests in the investments may be diluted accordingly.

RISK FACTORS

Although the Company may not have complete control over these investments and, therefore, may have a limited ability to protect its position therein, the Investment Manager expects that appropriate rights will be negotiated to protect the Company's interests. Nevertheless, such investments may involve risks in connection with such third-party involvement, including the possibility that a third-party partner or investor may have financial difficulties, resulting in a negative impact on such investment, may have economic or business interests or goals which are inconsistent with those of the Company or may be in a position to take action contrary to the Company's investment objectives.

Leverage and Interest Rates

Some of the investments may utilize a leveraged capital structure, in which case a third party would be entitled to cash flow generated by such investments prior to the Company receiving a return. Fluctuations in interest rates may adversely affect the ability of the Company to successfully acquire investments and may also adversely affect the performance of the Company's investments. Use of borrowed funds to leverage acquisitions involves a high degree of financial risk and can exaggerate the effect of any increase or decrease in value of an investment and will increase the exposure of the investments to adverse economic factors, such as fluctuations in interest rates, downturns in the local economies in which the investments are located or deterioration in the condition of the investments.

Government Intervention and Issuer Risk

Currency exchange rates, interest rates and trading in derivatives or currencies or interest rates are subject to certain risks arising from government regulation of or intervention in the currency and/or interest rate markets, through regulation of the local exchange market, restrictions on foreign investment by residents, limits on inflows of investment funds or changes in the general level of interest rates. Such regulation or intervention could adversely affect the Company's performance. The Company's investment in securities or other permitted financial instruments issued or guaranteed by sovereign governments, governmental entities, banks or other entities also presents risk of loss in the event of a default by the issuers of such instruments.

Valuation Risk

Investments by the Company in private or unquoted companies may be difficult to realize, and in the absence of an available market, it may not be possible to establish their current value at any particular time, or indeed to realize what the Company believes to be their full value on a realization. The Company may rely upon the Administrator and Investment Manager for valuation of certain of the Company's assets, including, without limitation, in connection with the distribution of illiquid securities upon the liquidation of the Company. The Company may engage qualified valuation professionals to assist in this determination, however, it is not required to do so. Given the nature of the proposed portfolio companies, valuation may be difficult. There may be a relative scarcity of market comparables on which to base the value of the Company's private equity assets. As such, any such valuations could prove to be incorrect. In addition, such valuations will affect the calculation and distribution of the Investment Manager's performance fee.

Suspension of calculation of NAV

As described in the paragraph entitled “Suspension of Calculation of Net Asset Value” in the section headed “Overview of the Company” in this document, the Directors may (but shall not be obliged to) declare a temporary suspension of calculation of the Net Asset Value in respect of any Valuation Date.

If the calculation of Net Asset Value is suspended, the Company will make an announcement of such suspension on the website of the Company and the Stock Exchange, respectively.

If a suspension of calculation of the Net Asset Value occurs, it may adversely affect both the value and the liquidity of the Shares on the secondary market. The reputational fallout from a suspension may cause the price of the Shares on a secondary market to fall and Shareholders may be compelled to remain invested in the Company for a longer period than was otherwise intended.

All reasonable steps will be taken to bring such a period of suspension to an end as soon as possible.

Hedging transactions and strategy

The Company may from time to time purchase or sell forwards, swaps, and/or options on currencies, securities and indices. It is the intention of the Company to engage in such transactions primarily as a way to mitigate risk associated with investments of the Company. However, it is generally impossible to hedge an investment fully given the uncertainty as to the amount and timing of projected cash flows and investment returns, if any, on the Company’s investments. This may lead to losses on both the Company investment and the related transaction. Conversely, there will be times during which the Company believes that it is not advisable to enter into hedging transactions; accordingly, the Company may be exposed to fluctuations in currencies and other market conditions specific to the underlying asset. Hedging transactions generally constitute a higher risk than investments in transferable securities due to their greater volatility and less liquidity.

While the Company may enter into such transactions to seek to reduce currency exchange rate, interest rate or equity value risks, unanticipated changes in currency exchange or interest rates may result in a poorer overall performance for the Company than if it had not engaged in any such hedging transaction. In addition, the degree of correlation between price movements of the instruments used in a hedging strategy and price movements in the portfolio position being hedged may vary.

In addition, there is no limit on the exposure that may be incurred to any single counterparty under over the counter derivative instruments, exchange listed securities, options, repurchase agreements, or other similar transactions and, as a result, if any such counterparty becomes unable to pay amounts due on such instruments or transactions, the financial losses to the Company would be greater than if such limits were imposed.

RISK FACTORS

It is possible that the Company will leave unhedged certain investments denominated in or generating cash flow in non-Hong Kong dollar currencies and in any such case, the Company will be exposed to risk that such currency will decline in value against the Hong Kong dollar during the term of the portfolio company such that the results of such portfolio company will be worse in Hong Kong dollar terms than the results based upon the local currency.

Options

The Company may from time to time purchase or sell options. It is the intention of the Company to engage in such transactions primarily for hedging purposes and with the intent of enhancing investor returns. There are risks associated with the sale and purchase of call options and put options. The seller (writer) of a call option that is covered (e.g., the writer that holds the underlying security) assumes the risk of a decline in the market price of the underlying security below the purchase price of the underlying security less the premium received, and gives up the opportunity for gain on the underlying security above the exercise price of the option. The seller of an uncovered call option assumes the risk of a theoretically unlimited increase in the market price of the underlying security above the exercise price of the option. The buyer of a call option assumes the risk of losing its entire investment in the call option (i.e., the premium paid for the call) if it does not exercise the call option. If the buyer of the call sells short the underlying security, the loss on the call will be offset in whole or in part by any gain on the short sale of the underlying security. The seller (writer) of a put option that is covered (e.g., the writer that has a short position in the underlying security) assumes the risk of an increase in the market price of the underlying security above the sales price (in establishing the short position) of the underlying security plus the premium received, and gives up the opportunity for gain on the underlying security below the exercise price of the option. If the seller of a put option owns a put option covering an equivalent number of shares with an exercise price equal to or greater than the exercise price of the put written, the position is fully hedged if the option owned expires at the same time as or later than the option written. The seller of an uncovered put option assumes the risk of a decline in the market price of the underlying security below the exercise price of the option. The buyer of a put option assumes the risk of losing its entire investment in the put option (i.e., the premium paid for the put). If the buyer of a put holds the underlying security, the loss on the put will be offset in whole or in part by any gain on the underlying security.

Short selling

The Company will be permitted to sell securities short. Short sales can, in certain circumstances, substantially increase the impact of adverse price movements on the Company's portfolio. A short sale of a security involves the risk of a theoretically unlimited loss from a theoretically unlimited increase in the market price of the security that could result in an inability to cover the short position. In addition, there can be no assurance that securities necessary to cover a short position will be available for purchase.

Forward trading

Forward contracts and options thereon, unlike futures contracts, are not traded on exchanges and are not standardised; rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and “cash” trading are substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. For example, there are no requirements with respect to record-keeping, financial responsibility or segregation of customer funds or positions. In contrast to exchange-traded futures contracts, interbank traded instruments rely on the dealer or counterparty being contracted with to fulfil its contract. As a result, trading in interbank foreign exchange contracts may be subject to more risks than futures or options trading on regulated exchanges, including, but not limited to, the risk of default due to the failure of a counterparty with which the Company has a forward contract. Although the Company will seek to trade with responsible counterparties, failure by a counterparty to fulfill its contractual obligation could expose the Company to unanticipated losses. The principals who deal in the forward markets are not required to continue to make markets in the currencies or commodities they trade and these markets can experience periods of illiquidity, sometimes of significant duration. There have been periods during which certain participants in these markets have refused to quote prices other than with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they were prepared to buy and that at which they were prepared to sell.

Disruptions can occur in any currency market due to unusually high trading volume, political intervention or other factors. The imposition of controls by governmental authorities might also limit such forward trading to less than that which the Investment Manager would otherwise recommend, to the possible detriment of the Company. Market illiquidity or disruption could result in major losses to the Company.

Highly volatile instruments

The prices of derivative instruments, including forward contracts, swaps and options, are highly volatile. Price movements of forward contracts and other derivative contracts in which the Company’s assets may be invested are influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. In addition, governments from time to time intervene, directly and by regulation, in certain markets, particularly those in currencies and financial instrument options. Such intervention often is intended directly to influence prices or interest rates may cause volatility in the relevant markets. The Company also will be subject to the risk of the failure of any exchange on which its positions trade or the failure of their clearinghouses.

Risk of unsuccessful exit strategies

The Company may opportunistically sell, distribute or otherwise dispose of portfolio companies at any time. It is not possible to predict whether an exit strategy will be advantageous or available at the appropriate time. If the Company fails to execute an exit strategy prior to the liquidation of the Company, the Company may be forced to liquidate its assets on terms less favorable than anticipated and the proceeds from these portfolio companies and the remaining portfolio companies may be materially and adversely affected.

Illiquid and long-term Investments

Although investments may generate recurring income, the return on capital and the realisation of gains, if any, from an unquoted investment will most likely occur only upon the partial or complete disposal of such investment. While an investment may be sold at any time, it is generally expected that the disposal of most private investments will only occur for a number of years after such investments are made. There is no guarantee that there will be a public market for the securities held by the Company at the time of their disposal. These assets may be subject to industry cyclicality, downturns in demand, market disruptions, and the lack of available capital for potential purchasers and it may be difficult or time consuming to liquidate private investments.

Termination of Investment Management Agreement

To achieve its investment objective, the Company is dependent on having access to the investment expertise of the Investment Manager. The Investment Management Agreement is for an initial term from the Listing Date to 31 December 2012, subject to the periodic review and confirmation from the Company's Independent Non-Executive Directors, and may be terminated by the Company or the Investment Manager upon not less than 180 days' written notice or earlier for cause.

If the Investment Management Agreement is terminated and the Company is not able to enter into suitable replacement agreements, the Company may be unable to fulfil its investment objective and may have to be placed into liquidation.

Risks of less established companies

The Company may invest in smaller, less established or start-up companies, assets or projects. Investments in such entities may involve greater risks than that generally associated with investments in more established entities. To the extent that there is any public market for the securities of such companies held by the Company, such securities may be subject to more abrupt and erratic market price movements than those of larger, more established companies. Less established companies tend to be less well capitalised and have fewer resources, and, therefore, are often more vulnerable to financial failure.

Such companies also may have short operating history on which to judge future performance and in many cases, if operating, will have negative cash flow. There can be no assurance that losses from financial failure of an investment company will be offset by gains (if any) realized on the Company's other assets. The Company may invest in assets that (i) have little or no operating history, (ii) have a checkered financial history, (iii) offer services or products that are not yet ready to be marketed, (iv) are operating at a loss or have significant fluctuations in operating results, (v) are engaged in a rapidly changing business, or (vi) need substantial additional capital to set up internal infrastructure, hire management and personnel, support expansion or achieve or maintain a competitive position. Such companies may have a greater variability of returns, and a higher risk of failure, than more established companies.

Board lot size

Shares will be issued and traded in board lot sizes of 100,000 Shares and this may result in relatively lower trading volume in Shares than those with a smaller board lot size. The Shares may therefore be relatively more illiquid than other similar securities traded on the Stock Exchange with a smaller board lot size.

Handling of Mail

Mail addressed to the Company and received at its registered office will be forwarded unopened to the Company Secretary to be dealt with. None of the Company, its directors, officers, advisors or service providers (including the organisation which provides registered office services in the Cayman Islands) will bear any responsibility for any delay howsoever caused in mail reaching the Company Secretary. In particular, the registered office will not open or deal directly with mail addressed to the Company. There is some risk that there may be delay in the Company's, the Directors', the Investment Manager's receipt of mail, including urgent mail, sent to the registered office.

No regulation of the Company under Mutual Funds law of the Cayman Islands

The Company is not required to register or be regulated as a mutual fund under the Mutual Funds Law (2009 Revision) of the Cayman Islands. Neither the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has passed judgement upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands. Shareholders in the Company will have a different level of protection in the Cayman Islands than afforded to shareholders of a company registered as a mutual fund under the Mutual Funds Law (2009 Revision) of the Cayman Islands.

PRC Specific Risk Factors

In addition to the foregoing risks associated with investments in developing countries, investing in the PRC and in securities of Chinese companies involves additional risk. The following are special considerations that should be considered when contemplating an investment in the Company.

Chinese policy risks

The success of the Company's investments will be closely linked to the economic prosperity of China. Accordingly, the Company's performance will be subject to a significant degree to economic, political and legal developments in China. China's economy differs from the economies of most developed countries in many respects, including with respect to the amount of government involvement, level of development, growth rate, and control of foreign exchange and allocation of resources. Since 1978, China's economy has been growing in terms of gross domestic product. However, it is uncertain that such growth will be sustained in the future. For example, any slowdown in the economies of the United States, the European Union or certain other Asian countries may adversely affect economic growth in China. An economic downturn in China might adversely affect an individual portfolio company's or the Company's overall profitability. Moreover, while the Chinese economy has experienced significant growth in the past 20 years, growth has been uneven across different regions and among various economic sectors of China.

The Chinese government has implemented various measures to encourage economic development and guide the allocation of resources. As the global financial crisis became more acute, in December 2008, the State Council announced nine specific financial policies to boost economic growth in China. The Chinese government exercises significant control over China's economic growth through the allocation of resources, controlling payment of foreign currency denominated obligations, setting monetary policy and providing preferential treatment to particular industries or companies. Such measures may impact the level of economic activity in China, which in turn could adversely affect the Company's performance. In some cases, the government owns or controls companies, including some of the largest. Accordingly, government actions in the future could have a significant effect on economic conditions, which could affect private sector companies and the Company, and on market conditions, prices and yields of investments in portfolio companies. Expropriation, confiscatory taxation, nationalization, political, economic or social instability or other developments could adversely affect the assets of the Company held in China. However, the Chinese government has substantially reduced the level of control that it exercises over the economy through state planning and other measures and has increasingly relied on market mechanisms to allocate resources, and there is an increasing degree of economic liberalization and autonomy. Notwithstanding the above, China is a socialist state controlled by the Communist Party of China and its present reforms, policies and regulatory climate may change without advance notice.

China legal risks

The Company's operations in China will be governed by Chinese laws and regulations. The Chinese legal system is based on written statutes. Prior court decisions may be cited for reference but have limited precedential value. Many laws and regulations, including those applicable to foreign investments (which is discussed in more detail below), are relatively new and are continually evolving in response to changing economy and other conditions, and because of the limited number of published cases and their non-binding nature, any particular interpretation and enforcement of the Chinese laws and regulation may involve uncertainty.

Furthermore, China is geographically large and divided into various provinces and municipalities and as such, different local rules, regulations and policies may apply in different provinces and they may have different and varying applications and interpretations in different parts in China. The effectiveness of newly enacted laws, regulations or amendments might be delayed in certain regions, resulting in detrimental reliance by foreign investors.

RISK FACTORS

The Chinese government has broad discretion in dealing with violations of laws and regulations from the perspective of administration, including levying fines, revoking business and other licenses and requiring actions necessary for compliance. As a result, a portfolio company may be subject to sanctions, including fines, and could be required to restructure operations or cease to provide certain services if it violates the applicable laws, regulations and rules. Any of these or similar actions could significantly disrupt a portfolio company's business operations or restrict that portfolio company from conducting a substantial portion of its business operations, which could materially and adversely affect the Company's performance.

Agreements entered into by the portfolio companies may be more difficult to enforce by legal proceedings in China than in countries with more mature legal systems. Even if the agreements generally provide for arbitral proceedings for disputes arising out of the agreements to be in another jurisdiction, it might take more time to obtain effective enforcement in China, of an arbitral award obtained in that jurisdiction.

Moreover, the enforceability of contracts in China, especially with governmental entities, is relatively uncertain. If counterparties repudiate a contract or default on their obligations, the Company or a portfolio company might not have adequate remedies. Such uncertainties or inability to enforce contracts could have a material adverse affect on the Company's performance. In addition, any litigation in China may be protracted and result in substantial costs and diversion of resources and management attention.

Investment Controls

Foreign investment in China is restricted or controlled to varying degrees. These restrictions or controls may at times limit or preclude foreign investment in certain opportunities and increase the costs and expenses of the Company. Governmental approval may be required for the repatriation of capital or the proceeds of sales by foreign investors, and of foreign currency. In addition, if there is a significant deterioration in balance of payments or for other reasons, a government might impose temporary restrictions on capital remittances abroad. The Company could be adversely affected by delays in, or a refusal to grant, any required governmental approval for repatriation of proceeds from disposal of assets or divestment by the Company. Gains from the disposition of such investments may be subject to withholding taxes.

The Company will be treated as a foreign entity and the portfolio companies in China will be treated as foreign-invested enterprises under Chinese law. As a result, the Company may be subject to certain limitations on foreign ownership of certain types of companies. The Company may, consistent with generally accepted and recognized market practices in China and after seeking the advice of counsel, utilize ownership structures and contractual arrangements that are in compliance with relevant Chinese laws in connection with its investment in such companies and funds with respect to which foreign ownership is restricted. However, laws and regulations as well as policies of China relating to foreign investments and restrictions on foreign investments in particular types of companies may be subject to change in response to the development of China's marco-economy, and their interpretation and enforcement in local practice may involve some uncertainty. Accordingly, there are no assurances that Chinese governmental authorities will not find the ownership structure utilized by the Company with respect to a particular portfolio company to be in violation of any existing or future laws or regulations of China. Furthermore, China may not accord equivalent rights (or protection for such rights) to those rights investors might expect in countries with more sophisticated foreign investment laws and regulations.

Qualified foreign institutional investor risks

The Company may acquire access to A shares listed on Chinese exchanges (“A Shares”) via access products issued or written by a Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor (“QFII”). Given that the issuance of the access products depends on the ability of the QFII to buy and sell A Shares, any restrictions or any changes in laws and regulation imposed by the PRC government on a QFII’s operations may adversely affect the issuance of access products and/or cause the Shares to trade at a discount. Further under the QFII system, a QFII must obtain approval from the State Administration of Foreign Exchange (“SAFE”) for an investment quota which is the limit within which the QFII may acquire A Shares. In the event that the QFII wishes to increase its investment quota in the future, such increase may take time to obtain approval from SAFE and such approval is not guaranteed. Therefore, if the QFII status of the relevant QFII is revoked or the investment quota of the relevant QFII is insufficient, the Company may no longer be able to gain indirect access to the A Share market via access products.

Regulatory development and oversight

At present, the securities market and regulatory framework for the securities industry in China is undergoing rapid growth and changes, which may lead to trading volatilities, difficulties in settlement and recording of transactions and in interpreting and applying the relevant regulations. In addition, some of the investment regulations under which the Company will invest in the PRC are relatively new and given that the relevant PRC authorities wide discretion on their interpretation. There are no precedents on how such discretion might be exercised for issues that have not been clearly provided in the investment regulations, therefore leaving a considerable amount of uncertainty.

Foreign exchange control and currency conversion risk

The PRC’s system of foreign exchange administration imposes restrictions on the ability of enterprises in the PRC to retain and deal in foreign currency. Generally speaking, in accordance with the Regulations of the PRC on Foreign Exchange Administration, effective from 1 April 1996 and amended on 14 January 1997 and 1 August 2008, domestic transactions must be priced and settled in Renminbi. There remain significant restrictions on the ability of enterprises located in the PRC to purchase and make outward remittance of foreign currency under “capital account” transactions. In accordance with the Regulations for the Administration of the Settlement, Purchase and Sale of Foreign Exchange, effective from 1 July 1996, a PRC enterprise seeking to purchase foreign currency must do so through a designated foreign exchange bank. Foreign currency may be purchased or remitted abroad by complying with certain procedural requirements without approval/registration of the SAFE if the foreign currency is to be used for a “current account” transaction within SAFE definitions (e.g. dividend distribution, interest payments and expenditures from trade/service-related transactions). However, SAFE approval/registration is required in order to purchase or remit foreign currency under “capital account” transactions (e.g. divestment and sales of assets). Accordingly, there is a risk that the Company may not be able to repatriate foreign currency for the purposes of distributions in relation to the Shares.

Financial disclosure and corporate governance

Accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards in the PRC may not be equivalent to standards applicable in more mature economies. As a result, the lower levels of disclosure and transparency of certain material information may impact on the value of investments made by the Company. This, if combined with a weak regulatory environment, could result in lower standards of corporate governance and less protection of minority shareholder rights.

Publicly available information may not be reliable or current

Accurate analysis or prediction of the China financial market may be difficult due to the lack of reliable and up-to-date information regarding the nature and extent of development and investment activities in the China, the availability of newly developed products and the availability of companies or financial products suitable for investment. Consequently, investment and business decisions may not always be based on the most reliable or up-to-date information.

Tax considerations

The tax laws and regulations of the PRC are regularly changing, and they may be changed with retrospective effect. The interpretation and applicability of the tax laws and regulations by tax authorities are not as consistent and transparent as those of more developed nations, and may vary from region to region. In some cases, the Company may be subject to the PRC tax.

Dividend payment restrictions

Many of the portfolio companies will be operating or will have subsidiaries organized under the laws of China. The Company may lose a source of liquidity if its portfolio companies are restricted from paying dividends or making other distributions to the Company. Current Chinese regulations permit companies in China to pay dividends only out of their respective accumulated profits, if any, determined in accordance with Chinese accounting standards and regulations. In addition, companies in China are each required to set aside a certain percentage of their respective accumulated profits each year, if any, to fund certain reserve funds. These reserves are not distributable as cash dividends. In addition, current Chinese regulations prohibit inter-company borrowings or allocation of tax losses among subsidiaries in China. Further, if any of the Company’s portfolio companies in China incurs debt on its own behalf in the future, the debt incurred may restrict its ability to pay dividends or make other payments to the Company.

Currency fluctuation

Subscriptions to the Company are payable in HK dollars and the Company's assets will be valued in HK Dollars. A portion of the Company's investments may be denominated in RMB, including the Company's revenues and certain of its costs. The exchange rate of RMB against other currencies may fluctuate and is affected by, among other things, changes in political and economic conditions. The People's Bank of China (the "PBOC") allows the RMB to fluctuate within a narrow and managed band against a basket of foreign currencies. There can be no assurance that the RMB will not be subject to further unexpected fluctuations in the exchange rate between the RMB and the HK Dollar, especially in light of continued international pressure on the Chinese government to further revalue the RMB. Any significant revaluation of RMB may materially and adversely affect the Company's performance, and the Net Asset Value per Share. In addition, the Company's currency exchange losses may be magnified by China's exchange control regulations that restrict its abilities to convert RMB into HK Dollars.

Hong Kong Specific Risk Factors

Hong Kong dollar peg

The Shares are denominated in Hong Kong Dollars. There are no foreign exchange controls in Hong Kong, and the HK Dollar is freely convertible into other currencies. However, in the context of investments made by the Company on the Stock Exchange, the Hong Kong Government maintains a currency peg, introduced in 1983, which fixes the Hong Kong Dollar to the US Dollar at approximately one US Dollar to seven and four-fifths Hong Kong Dollars. This peg results in Hong Kong's interest rate policy being effectively directed by the US Federal Reserve. Although the currency peg has remained in existence after the handover of sovereignty of Hong Kong to the PRC, there can be no assurance that it will continue and if it does not continue, what effect this will have in the international currency markets on the value of the Hong Kong Dollar.

POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment Manager

The services provided by the Investment Manager are not exclusive and the Investment Manager and each of its directors, officers and employees are free to render services similar to those which they are providing in relation to the Company to other clients (including other funds) (together the “Clients”) so long as the Investment Manager’s services to the Company are not thereby impaired.

Currently the Investment Manager and their directors, officers and employees provide management services to a number of hedge funds, a mutual fund and a managed discretionary account with similar investment objectives to the Company. Details of each of these other Clients and their respective investment objectives, size and geographical coverage can be found in table in the paragraph entitled “Other funds/accounts currently managed by the Investment Manager and/or Executive Directors” below. The Investment Manager may also be engaged by additional Clients in the future.

From time to time conflicts of interest may arise between the interest of the Company and those of other Clients. In such situations, the Investment Manager will have regard to its obligations to the Company to act in the best interests of the Company, so far as is practicable having regard also to its obligations to the other Clients.

The Investment Manager reserves the right for itself, its associates and its Clients to co-invest with the Company, although any such co-investment will be made on terms no better than those in which the Company is investing. Similarly the Investment Manager and Clients may also make investments in companies in which the Company holds investments or has previously invested. The Investment Manager shall, in any event, disclose to the Company any transaction involving investments in which the Company has invested or may reasonably be expected to invest before the Investment Manager enters into such transactions on its own account or on behalf of any third party Client by giving a notice to the Board to that effect, provided always that the Investment Manager shall not be required to disclose information about its other Clients, which is subject to client confidentiality.

Allocation of investments between Clients and other funds/accounts currently managed or advised by the Investment Manager and/or Executive Directors

The Investment Manager will use all reasonable efforts to ensure that the Company has the opportunity to participate in suitable investments identified by it which fall within the Company’s investment objective.

The Investment Manager dedicates a separate portfolio manager to each of the Clients that it provides management or advisory services to. Where a portfolio manager identifies a potential investment opportunity that falls within the investment objectives and restrictions of his or her fund or account, he or she then considers the current weighting of assets currently in the fund or account, risk parameters, market outlook, etc, to determine whether or not a purchase order should be placed for such investment.

POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

To the extent that there is limited liquidity for the purchase or sale of securities falling within the investment objective of both the Company and those other Clients, the Investment Manager may be in a conflict of interest in allocating the available purchase or sale opportunities among the Company and such other Clients.

The compliance manual (“Compliance Manual”) of the Investment Manager requires that the staff of the Investment Manager observe the following practices on order allocation:

- ensures all orders are allocated fairly and, where orders for a client and for another client are aggregated, or with an order for its own accounts, give priority to satisfying orders of clients, in any subsequent allocation if all orders cannot be filled;
- makes a record of the intended basis of allocation before a transaction is effected;
- ensures an executed transaction is allocated promptly in accordance with the stated intention;
- avoids excessive trading, taking into account the portfolio’s stated objective; and
- execute orders on the best available terms, taking into account the relevant market at the time for the transactions of the kind and size concerned.

In practice if it is deemed appropriate that the Company and any of the Clients intend to participate in the same investment opportunity, and the aggregate amount of intended investment desired by the portfolio managers of both the Company and the relevant Client(s) exceeds the size that is actually available to the Investment Manager, the Investment Manager shall allocate the available investments amongst the Company and the relevant Client(s) on a pro-rata basis depending on the respective size requested by each portfolio manager of the Company and each Client and/or such other reasonable and equitable basis as the Investment Manager may consider appropriate in the circumstances.

The Compliance Manual also requires that the compliance officer of the Investment Manager performs regular review of order allocation to ensure all orders are allocated fairly.

The Company and the Investment Manager agree that this practice ensures the allocation of limited investment opportunities between the Company and the other Clients, in a fair and equitable manner after considering factors such as the investment objectives, current assets held and overall risk preferences or tolerances of each of the Company and the other Clients.

Executive Directors

As disclosed in the paragraph entitled “Overlapping Directorship”, both Mr. Wang Junyan and Mr. Craig Lindsay are directors of the Company and the Investment Manager and are involved in the day-to-day operations of each of these entities. This may give rise to conflicts of interest.

POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

As the overall interests of the Company and Investment Manager are aligned, the Directors are of the view that Mr. Wang and Mr. Lindsay will be able to act in the best interests of the Company and its Shareholders. In addition, all major decisions of each of these companies will be made by their respective board of directors of these companies as a whole and not at the sole discretion of Mr. Wang and/or Mr. Lindsay. In the case of the Company, this includes the Independent Non-Executive Directors and the third Executive Director Mr. Gu Xu.

Mr. Wang and Mr. Lindsay will maintain confidentiality in respect of the information of each of the funds managed by the Investment Manager. They are also aware of their obligations under the SFC's Internal Control Guidelines that they are required to establish and ensure the integrity and security of all information relevant to the business operations of the respective entities.

Voting by Executive Directors and the Investment Manager in conflicting situations

In accordance with Rule 13.44 of the Listing Rules, the Articles of the Company provide that any Director will generally not vote on any board resolution approving a contract or arrangement or any other proposal in which he or she has a material interest, except on certain issues (which are generally those listed in paragraph 4(1) of Appendix 3 of the Listing Rules), and those continuing connected transactions in relation to which waivers have been obtained from the Stock Exchange.

The Directors are confident that, should any conflicting situations ever arise due to the overlapping directorships of Mr. Wang Junyan and Mr. Craig Lindsay in the Company and the Investment Manager, the third Executive Director (Mr. Gu Xu) and the Independent Non-Executive Directors have sufficient expertise and knowledge to make appropriate decisions on behalf of the Company. In particular, the Directors note that Mr. Doyle Dally is currently an independent non-executive director of CITIC Securities Alpha Leaders Fund and holds the Trust and Estate Practitioner designation from the Society of Trust and Estates Practitioners, while Mr. Siu Kam Chau has long experience in acting as director and independent non-executive director of listed companies in Hong Kong. Full biographical details of the Independent Non-Executive Directors of the Company is included in the paragraph entitled "Directors of the Company" in the section headed "Overview of the Company".

In addition, the Independent Non-Executive Directors and the third Executive Director (Mr. Gu Xu) have the discretion to seek independent expert advice from external legal counsel or other professionals should they feel such advice would be advantageous.

The Investment Manager has also recently employed in-house counsel to assist in ongoing risk management and compliance issues with the assistance of the Company's Chairman and Company Secretary.

Upon completion of the Placing, no director of the Company or the Investment Manager or the Investment Manager itself, will hold any Shares in the Company. However, if in the future any such director or the Investment Manager obtain Shares, such director and/or the Investment Manager, any of their respective connected persons are prohibited from voting their own Shares at, or being part of quorum for, any meeting of the Company to the extent that they have or any of their associates has, a material interest in the business to be conducted at such meeting.

Allocation of time by the Executive Directors

As described above, the Investment Manager employs a separate portfolio manager for each of the existing funds it provides services to. Each portfolio manager has intricate knowledge of the fund or account he or she is designated to. Where the portfolio manager identifies a potential investment opportunity that falls within the investment objectives and restrictions of his or her fund, he or she then considers the current weighting of assets currently in the fund, risk parameters, market outlook, etc, to determine whether or not the investment should be purchased on behalf of that fund. Similarly the portfolio managers will continually monitor the assets in the particular portfolio to determine the ideal time to liquidate an investment. The portfolio managers work closely with the Executive Directors and are supported by the Investment Manager's legal and compliance team and other back-office support.

The Investment Manager will engage two dedicated portfolio managers for the Company. Mr. Shu Ai will be chiefly responsible for the private equity component of the portfolio, and Mr. Ng Shiu Cheong will be responsible for the public equity portion of the portfolio. Full biographies of Mr. Shu and Mr. Ng can be found in the paragraph entitled "Investment Manager".

In addition the Company has engaged HSBC Institutional Trust Services (Asia) Limited as the Custodian and HSBC Trustee (Cayman) Limited as the Administrator of the Company. HSBC's Institutional Fund Services has significant experience, knowledge and understanding of the funds management industry and provides an expansive range of specialist services. They assist in all facets of fund accounting, custody, complex pricing and risk, credit etc.

This mid and back office support leaves the Executive Directors' more time to focus on their core responsibilities of (i) supervising the portfolio managers of the Investment Manager to ensure that investment objective and policies are being followed; and (ii) monitoring of the performance of the various portfolios.

Mr. Wang Junyan and Mr Craig Lindsay estimate that each of them will devote at least 20 hours per week to matters of the Company. Given that there are considerable time efficiencies between the Investment Manager's tasks for each of the funds/accounts to which it provides services and the extensive relevant experience of the Executive Directors in overseeing several funds/accounts concurrently, both the Executive Directors and Independent Non-Executive Directors of the Company are confident that Mr. Wang and Mr. Lindsay will have sufficient time to attend to the management of the Company's matters notwithstanding that they will supervise each of the Investment Manager's portfolio managers.

Transfer of existing investments to the Company

It is not presently anticipated that there will be any transfer of investments amongst the existing funds/accounts managed or advised by any of the Executive Directors, Investment Manager or any other Client and the Company. The Company may however buy investments from, or sell investments to, such other parties only on an arm's length basis such that the terms on which such transactions are effected shall be no less favourable to the Company than the terms which the Company would have obtained by effecting the transaction with, by or through an independent third party.

In accordance with Rule 13.44 of the Listing Rules, the Articles of the Company provide that any Director will generally not vote on any board resolution approving a contract or arrangement or any other proposal in which he or she has a material interest, except on certain issues (which are generally those listed in paragraph 4(1) of Appendix 3 of the Listing Rules), and those continuing connected transactions in relation to which waivers have been obtained from the Exchange. This would include any potential transfer of investment from a fund and/or account which the Executive Director also served as a director.

Other funds/accounts currently managed by the Investment Manager and/or Executive Directors

As described above, the services provided by the Investment Manager are not exclusive to the Company. In particular, the Investment Manager currently provides management or advisory services to three hedge funds, a mutual fund and a managed discretionary account listed in the table below.

The investment objectives of these funds/accounts are similar to those of the Company, in that each of these seeks to capitalise on profits of companies who derive the majority of their business and/or revenue that is closely related to the economic growth of the Greater China. Each of the funds/accounts managed by the Investment Manager and/or Executive directors may also invest in new economy industries in the Greater China.

The key difference between the investment objective of these funds/accounts and that of the Company is the Company's narrower focus on the "new economy industries" in the Greater China that is, low carbon energy industry, software and internet-related industries, which, in varying degrees, place a premium on innovation, advanced technology, or worker skills.

Finally the geographical coverage of the investments of many of funds/accounts is broader than that of the Company. In particular, several funds/accounts invest in companies whose core business and/or revenue is closely related to the economic growth not only of the People's Republic of China, Hong Kong but also Singapore and Taiwan.

POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The table below sets forth the funds/accounts currently managed by the Investment Manager and certain details of those funds/accounts.

Foreign Exchange Policy

The Company's investments may be denominated in currencies other than HK Dollars. As such, it may receive income, or make payments in foreign currency and is therefore subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

The PRC's system of foreign exchange administration imposes significant restrictions on the ability of enterprises located in the PRC to purchase, retain and make outward remittance of foreign currency. See paragraph entitled "Foreign exchange control and currency conversion risk" in the section headed "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest" in this document.

Dividend Reinvestment Plan

The Company does not expect to declare dividends. However, unless and until the Company otherwise determines, each dividend declared by the Company in respect of Shares may, at the election of each Shareholder, be reinvested in additional Shares at the Issue Price as of the record date for such dividend or the immediately preceding Valuation Date. Shareholders will be notified of details of the dividend reinvestment plan, if any, by way of announcement and circular.

Reports to Shareholders

The Company's annual report and accounts will be made up to 31 December in each year and it is expected that copies of the annual report will be sent to Shareholders not later than three months after the end of the financial year. Shareholders will also receive an unaudited interim report covering the first six months of each calendar year and it is expected that copies of the interim report will be sent to Shareholders not later than two months after the end of that period of six months. The first report to Shareholders will be an audited annual report for the period from incorporation to 31 December 2010. The annual general meeting of the Company will be held in the second quarter of each calendar year.

OVERVIEW OF THE COMPANY

The audited accounts of the Company will be drawn up in HK Dollars and prepared under IFRS. Under IFRS, the Company will prepare an income statement which, unlike a statement of total return, does not differentiate between revenue and capital and also includes net realised and unrealised investment gains. The Company's management and administration fees, finance costs and all other expenses will be charged through the income statement.

For the NAV calculation, under IFRS both revenue and capital items are included. In addition, under IFRS the Company will be obliged to treat any interest rate swap transaction as a net liability or asset. The value of such net liability or asset will equal the net cost or surplus of breaking the interest rate swap transaction (although the Directors do not expect to break such a transaction). In addition, under IFRS the Company is obliged to provide for deferred income tax on all temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes, regardless of whether or not those temporary differences are expected to reverse.

Risk Management Policy

The ultimate responsibility in defining and maintaining the Company's risk control framework, setting the appropriate risk parameters for the Company and in continuously monitoring compliance of the Company's portfolio with the investment objective and policies and investment restrictions lies with the Board of Directors of the Company, that will be advised by the Investment Manager.

Thus risk management systems are in place both at the Company and the Investment Manager level.

The Investment Manager has in place a comprehensive risk management policy which includes procedures requiring regular performance of various risk analytics on the Company's portfolio and close monitoring of the portfolio against the Company's investment objective, policies and restrictions.

On a daily basis the Investment Manager's risk officer conducts portfolio level evaluation (including analysis of value-at-risk, correlations amongst sectors, concentrations of portfolio in gross and net exposures and beta adjusted exposures with different variables) and amongst other things analyses the Company's position level (including checking for abnormal movements, liquidity dry up, etc), return profile analysis, counterparty risk analysis, market risk, etc. On a daily basis the risk officer also prepares a snapshot report of analysis results.

On a weekly basis the risk officer conducts historical/trend analysis (for example of changes in value-at-risk, changes in various gross and net exposures, etc), stress test and what-if analysis. The risk officer also monitors marginal contributions to risk analysis on an ongoing basis.

OVERVIEW OF THE COMPANY

On a regular basis the risk manager meets with the portfolio managers, Mr. Wang Junyan (Executive Director of the Company and Chief Investment Officer and Responsible Officer of the Investment Manager) and Mr. Craig Lindsay (Chairman and Executive Director of the Company and Chief Operating Officer and Responsible Officer of the Investment Manager) to discuss any risks facing the portfolio.

At the Company level, a risk committee consisting of Mr. Wang, Mr. Lindsay and Mr. Doyle Dally has been formed to monitor the operational and portfolio risks to the Company. The risk committee will monitor the Investment Manager including review whether the investment objective and policies and investment restrictions are being followed by the Investment Manager. In case of any deviation, the risk committee will discuss deviations with the Investment Manager immediately and monitor remedial action. For all material deviations the risk committee will formulate recommendations to the Board on the appropriate remedial actions to be made. In formulating such recommendations the risk committee will also seek advice from the compliance adviser on any applicable disclosure or reporting requirement relating to such deviations under the Listing Rules, and make appropriate announcement if necessary. The risk committee will meet on a monthly basis, or more regularly if a meeting is requested by any risk committee member.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, the Investment Manager employed 4 licensed responsible officers and 12 licensed representatives.

It is the Investment Manager's policy to employ, or have seconded to it, a different portfolio manager for each fund it manages or advises. Thus, while some of the underlying funds on which the Investment Manager provides advice or manages may have similar investment objectives to that of the Company, each portfolio manager will have responsibility for making the best execution decisions for their respective fund separately.

As detailed in the Investment Policy, the Company will maintain both private and public equity portfolios. None of the other underlying funds on which the Investment Manager provides advice or manages invest in private equity portfolios and a separate portfolio manager will be appointed by the Investment Manager to oversee the investments in the private equity portfolio.

MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE COMPANY

The public equity portfolio will be for longer term investments and in this regard the Company's investment objectives are not the same as the other underlying funds. In order to act and safeguard the interests of the Company and its investors, every investment opportunity will be examined and scrutinized carefully by the proposed responsible officers as well as other licensed staff, taking into consideration the funds' investment mandate, risk profiles, concentration, liquidity and other relevant factors.

The Portfolio Managers

The Investment Manager dedicates one or more portfolio managers to each fund or managed account to which the Investment Manager provides its services. Each portfolio manager will identify potential investment opportunities that fall within the investment objectives and restrictions of his or her particular funds/account. The portfolio manager then considers the current weighting of assets presently in that fund/account, risk parameters of the fund/account, market outlook, etc to determine whether a purchase order should be placed for that investment opportunity. Similarly the portfolio managers will be continually monitoring the assets in the particular portfolio to determine the ideal time to liquidate a holding. The portfolio managers work closely with Mr. Wang Junyan and are supported by the Investment Manager's legal and compliance team and other back-office support.

MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE COMPANY

Continuing Connected Transactions

The Company will enter into the following continuing connected transactions following the listing of the Shares on the Stock Exchange.

Exempt continuing connected transaction

Custodian Agreement

Pursuant to Rule 21.13 of the Listing Rules, the Custodian is regarded as a Connected Person to the Company. The Custodian is entitled to a monthly fee of the higher of (a) up to 0.04% per annum of the Company's net asset value; and (b) HK$15,000. The Directors anticipate that the Custodian fees payable to the Custodian under the Custodian Agreement will not exceed HK$1 million and the applicable percentage ratios calculated for the purpose of Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules will be, on an annual basis, less than 5%. Accordingly, the Custodian Agreement constitutes a de minimis continuing connected transaction and is exempt from reporting, annual review, announcement and independent shareholders' approval requirements under Rule 14A.33(3) of the Listing Rules.

The Directors consider that the continuing connected transaction under the Custodian Agreement has been entered into in the ordinary and usual course of business and on normal commercial terms and are fair and reasonable so far as the Shareholders are concerned.

Non-exempt continuing connected transaction

Investment Management Agreement

Pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager manages the Company's investments in accordance with the Company's investment objective. The Investment Manager is entitled to an investment management fee accruing monthly at the rate of 2% per annum of the Net Asset Value of the Company, and a performance fee at the rate of 20% per annum of the net increase in the Net Asset Value per Share. The Company's management fee of 2% and the performance fee of 20% under the Investment Management Agreement fall within the market range and the use of net asset as a basis for calculation of performance fee is generally in line with other Chapter 21 Companies listed on the Stock Exchange. Details of the investment management fee and performance fee payable by the Company to the Investment Manager is set out in the paragraph entitled "Investment Management Fee and Performance Fee" in the section headed "Fees and Expenses" in this document.

Pursuant to Rule 21.13 of the Listing Rules, the Investment Manager is regarded as a Connected Person of the Company.

Proposed Annual Caps

The Directors estimated that the annual amount of the investment management fee and performance fee payable by the Company to the Investment Manager in aggregate in respect of the three years ending 31 December 2010, 2011 and 2012 will be nil, approximately HK$16.7 million and HK$21.0 million, respectively (collectively the "Annual Caps").

MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE COMPANY

In computing the above proposed Annual Caps, the Directors have taken into account and made reference to

- (i) the projected growth of the Net Asset Value of the Company in 2010, 2011 and 2012;
- (ii) the net proceeds from the Placing of HK$286.6 million will be received by the Company in January 2011;
- (iii) the investment management fee accruing monthly at the rate of 2% per annum of the Net Asset Value of the Company and the performance fee at the rate of 20% per annum of the net increase in the Net Asset Value per Share;
- (iv) the projected fluctuation in the securities and capital markets;
- (v) the projected development in “new economy industries” of Greater China including but not limited to, low carbon energy industry, software and internet-related industries, innovation, advanced technology and worker skills; and
- (vi) the past performance of the other funds managed by the Investment Manager.

The Directors, including the independent non-executive Directors, are of the view that the terms of and the transaction contemplated under the Investment Management Agreement has been entered into after arm’s length negotiation, on normal commercial terms and in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Company, and are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole; and that the proposed Annual Caps in respect of the fees payable under the Investment Management Agreement are fair and reasonable.

The applicable percentage ratios calculated for the purpose of Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules in respect of the annual amount of investment management fee and performance fee payable by the Company to the Investment Manager are more than 5% and the annual amount payable will exceed HK$10 million. Accordingly, the Investment Management Agreement is considered to be non-exempt continuing connected transaction under Rule 14A.35 of the Listing Rules and would require compliance with the reporting and announcement requirements set out in Rule 14A.45 to 14A.47 of the Listing Rules and the prior independent shareholders’ approval requirement set out in Rule 14A.48 of the Listing Rules on each occasion when they arise.

Renewal of Investment Management Agreement

As required by Rule 14A.35(1) of the Listing Rules, the Investment Management Agreement is for an initial term from the Listing Date to 31 December 2012 unless terminated by either party upon not less than 180 days’ written notice or earlier for cause. Pursuant to Rule 14A.48 of the Listing Rules, renewal of the Investment Management Agreement and Annual Caps will be conditional on approval by independent Shareholders.

MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE COMPANY

Application for Waiver

As the continuing connected transaction under the Investment Management Agreement is expected to continue on a recurring basis, the Directors consider that compliance with the announcement and the independent shareholders' approval requirements would be impractical and would add unnecessary administrative costs to the Company.

Accordingly, the Directors have requested the Stock Exchange to grant a waiver from compliance with these requirements under Rule 14A.42(3) of the Listing Rules. We have requested the Stock Exchange, and the Stock Exchange has agreed, to grant a waiver to the Company from strict compliance with the announcement and independent shareholders' approval requirements relating to the continuing connected transactions under the Listing Rules.

The Company will comply with Rules 14A.35(2), 14A.36, 14A.37, 14A.38, 14A.39 and 14A.40 of the Listing Rules.

Confirmation from the Sponsor

Having considered the principal terms of the Investment Management Agreement and the factors taken into account by the Directors on the calculation of the proposed Annual Caps, the Sponsor is of the view that the terms of and the transaction contemplated under the Investment Management Agreement are entered into after arm's length negotiation, on normal commercial terms and in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Company, and are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole; and that the proposed Annual Caps in respect of the fees payable under the Investment Management Agreement are fair and reasonable.

For the purposes of any such further issue of Shares, the Directors may determine an additional Valuation Date.

If additional Shares are issued, the proceeds of this issue and all investments acquired with such proceeds will not be segregated in the Company's books from the assets of the Company attributable to the existing Shares on issue. FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Disclosure Required under the Listing Rules

As at the Latest Practicable Date, the Directors are not aware of any circumstances which would give rise to a disclosure requirement under Rules 13.13 to 13.19 of the Listing Rules.

Past financial results – Paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance

According to paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance, the Company is required to include in this document a statement (“Statement”) as to the gross trading income or sales turnover and a report (“Accountants’ Report”) by the reporting accountants of the Company with respect to profits and losses, assets and liabilities of the Company in respect of each of the three financial years immediately preceding the issue of this document. The Company has in fact not had any business or track record since its incorporation. In the circumstances, the Company has applied to the SFC for an exemption pursuant to section 342A of the Companies Ordinance from strict compliance with the requirements under paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance on the grounds that:

- (i) the Company, being an investment company for the purpose of Chapter 21 of the Listing Rules, is not required to have any track record period to be qualified for listing under Rule 21.04 of the Listing Rules; and
- (ii) the Company in fact has not conducted any business since its date of incorporation on 1 February 2010. It is therefore not meaningful for investors and the Company to prepare the Statement and the Accountants’ Report. In the circumstances, the inclusion in this document of the Statement and the Accountants’ Report in strict compliance with the requirements of paragraphs 27 and 31 of the Third Schedule to the Companies Ordinance is irrelevant in the case of the Company, in the sense that the limited information to be presented therein would not be meaningful to investors generally.

The exemption has been granted by the SFC under section 342A of the Companies Ordinance accordingly.

Litigation

As at the Last Practicable Date, the Company was not engaged in any litigation or arbitration of material importance and no litigation or claim of material importance is pending or threatened by or against the Company.

TAXATION

General

The taxation of income and capital gains of the Company and the Shareholders is subject to the fiscal law and practice of the Cayman Islands, and any other jurisdiction in which the Company invests and of the jurisdictions in which Shareholders are resident or otherwise subject to tax. The following summary of the anticipated tax treatment in certain jurisdictions does not constitute legal or tax advice and is based on the taxation law and practice in force at the date of this document. The summary applies only to persons holding Shares as an investment.

The summary does not consider all aspects of taxation which may be relevant to a particular Shareholder in the light of his particular circumstances (for example, tax consequences in the Shareholder's jurisdiction of residence). Investors should consult their own advisers on the taxation and exchange control implications of their acquiring, holding or disposing of Shares under the laws of the jurisdiction in which they are liable to taxation.

While this summary is considered to be a correct interpretation of existing laws and practice in force on the date of this document, no assurance can be given that courts or other authorities responsible for the administration of such laws will agree with this interpretation or that changes in such laws or practice will not occur.

Cayman Islands

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Company or the Shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Company.

The Company has received an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (1999 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Company or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable, (i) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Company, or (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Company to its members or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Company.

No stamp duty is payable in the Cayman Islands on the issue or transfer of Shares of Cayman Islands companies except those which hold interests in land in the Cayman Islands.

TAXATION

Hong Kong

The Inland Revenue Ordinance (Cap. 112 of the Laws of Hong Kong) imposes tax on property rental income, salaries and business profits (i.e. profits tax). As the Company does not intend to own any land or buildings situated in Hong Kong and will not be generating any employment income its exposure to Hong Kong tax under the Inland Revenue Ordinance of Hong Kong falls to be considered only in connection with profits tax.

Every person who carries on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong, either in his own right or through another person, is chargeable to profits tax on profits (not being capital in nature) which arise in or are derived from Hong Kong from such trade, profession or business. Hong Kong does not levy a capital gains tax nor is there any general turnover, sales or value added tax.

Hong Kong profits tax may be chargeable if the Company is carrying on a business in Hong Kong either on its own account or through the agency of the Investment Manager or its agents. If the Company is carrying on a business in Hong Kong, a liability to profits tax, the rate of which is currently 16.5%, will exist in respect of any profits which arise in or are derived from Hong Kong and which are not profits arising from the sale of capital assets.

Dividends received by the Company from its investments (whether located within or outside Hong Kong) will not be chargeable to tax in Hong Kong (whether by way of withholding or otherwise) under current law.

Interest arising in or derived from outside Hong Kong will not be chargeable to tax in Hong Kong (whether by way of withholding or otherwise) under current law.

In case the Company acquires or disposes of any Hong Kong stocks as defined under the Hong Kong Stamp Duty Ordinance, Hong Kong stamp duty will be imposed at the current rate of 0.1% on the consideration or the fair market value of the stocks, whichever is higher. The purchaser and the seller will each be liable for the Hong Kong stamp duty upon such acquisition or disposal.

Profits arising on the realisation of an investment in the Company will be subject to profits tax for Shareholders who are carrying on a business in Hong Kong, where the profits (not being capital in nature) arise from such business and are sourced in Hong Kong. Dividends received by Shareholders from the Company will generally not be subject to profits tax in Hong Kong.

All Shares will be registered on the register of Shareholders of the Company in Hong Kong maintained by the Hong Kong Share Registrar. Dealings in the Shares on the Company's register of Shareholders maintained in Hong Kong will be subject to Hong Kong stamp duty.

TAXATION

People's Republic of China

Corporate income tax ("CIT")

Under the current tax law and regulations, the Company is not directly subject to PRC CIT provided that the Company does not have a permanent establishment in the PRC or considered as a PRC tax resident.

Dividends from PRC investment

With effect from 1 January 2008, the CIT Law provides for a 20% withholding tax on dividends payable to non-PRC residents by a PRC resident company. However, in accordance with the Detailed Implementation Rules ("DIR"), the withholding tax on dividends has now been set at 10%.

In the event that the Company qualifies as a Hong Kong tax resident and holds 25% or more of a PRC portfolio company, the withholding tax rate may be further reduced to 5% in accordance with the double tax arrangement between the PRC and Hong Kong. The Company should submit the confirmation of tax residence issued by the Hong Kong Inland Revenue Department to the PRC tax authorities to support the claim for reduced dividend withholding tax rate.

According to Guoshuifa [2009] No. 124 ("Circular 124") issued by the State Administration of Taxation ("SAT") on 24 August 2009, effective from 1 October 2009, it is mandatory for the Company to request approval with the competent PRC tax authorities to claim for reduced dividend withholding tax rate. When requesting such an approval, the Company must submit the required documents to the tax authorities for review, which include the application form for the approval of treaty benefits, identify information report for treaty benefits, a certificate of tax residence issued after the beginning of the previous calendar year by the competent authorities, relevant supporting documents relating to the dividend income concerned, etc.

According to Guoshuihan [2009] No. 81 ("Circular 81") issued by SAT on 20 February 2009, the Company must be the 'beneficial owner' if it seeks to enjoy the reduced withholding tax rate (i.e. 5%) for dividends received from the PRC investment under the double tax arrangement.

According to Guoshuihan [2009] No. 601 ("Circular 601") issued by SAT on 27 October 2009, 'beneficial owner', as described under tax treaty for the purpose of determining whether a non-resident enterprise is entitled to a reduced withholding tax rate on certain PRC-sourced income, refers to a person who has the right of ownership and control over the item of income, or the right or property from which that item of income is derived. A beneficial owner generally shall engage in substantive business operations, and can be an individual, corporation or any other organization. Agents or conduit companies do not qualify as beneficial owners for tax treaty purposes.

TAXATION

Circular 601 requires tax authorities to determine beneficial ownership not just from a technical or domestic law perspective, but also to apply the principle of substance over form to the facts of each case in light of the object and purposes of the tax treaty. Circular 601 only sets forth the following negative factors for the recognition of beneficial ownership, but does not provide any quantitative guidance on how some of the factors would be looked at by the SAT when evaluating beneficial ownership:

- the applicant is obligated to distribute all or the majority (e.g. 60% or above) of the PRC-sourced income to a resident of a third jurisdiction within a specified period (e.g. 12 months);
- other than holding the properties or rights that generate the income received, the applicant does not have business operations;
- if the applicant is a corporation or another type of business entity, the assets, the scale of operations, and the human resources of the applicant are disproportionately small relative to the income received from the PRC;
- the applicant has no or minimal control or decision-making rights, and bears little or no risks;
- the applicant is exempt from tax or is not subject to tax in the contracting country with respect to the income received from the PRC, or the applicant is subject to an extremely low effective tax rate;
- in the case of interest income, there is a loan or deposit contract between the applicant and a third party, the terms of which (i.e. the amount, interest rate, signing dates) are similar or close to those of the loan contract under which the interest income is received.

Interest from hedging activities in the PRC

With effect from 1 January 2008, the CIT Law provides for a 20% withholding tax on interest payments made to non-PRC residents by a PRC resident company. However, in accordance with the DIR, the withholding tax rate on interest payments has now been set at 10%. The withholding tax rate may be reduced by relevant double tax arrangements, subject to approval from the PRC tax authorities. Please refer to above for discussions on Circulars 124, 81 and 601. Interest received from PRC companies will be subject to 5% business tax, which would be collected by way of withholding.

Gains on disposal of shares in PRC investment

With effect from 1 January 2008, the CIT Law provides for a 20% withholding tax to be imposed on gains derived by non-PRC residents from the sale of shares in a PRC resident company. However, in accordance with the DIR, the withholding tax rate on such gains has been set at 10% provided that the Company is not considered to have a place of establishment (or permanent establishment) in the PRC or the capital gain is not considered effectively connected to the said establishment, and the Company is not considered tax residents of the PRC. The capital gain will be computed based on the difference between the sales proceeds and the original cost of investment.

If the Company qualifies as Hong Kong tax resident, and at any point of time within 12 months before the alienation, owns less than 25% of the PRC investment and the gains are not derived from the alienation of shares of a company the property of which consists directly or indirectly principally of immovable properties situated in the PRC, such gains will be exempt from withholding income tax.

The transfer of shares in the PRC investment will be subject to stamp duty at a rate of 0.05% on the transfer value. Stamp duty is payable by the seller of the PRC investment and the purchaser.

Taxes from investments in PRC listed companies

The Company would be able to invest in A-shares through Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors (“QFIIs”). The current practice of the PRC tax authorities is to treat QFIIs as the direct PRC taxpayer. The Company is not a PRC taxpayer under the current PRC tax practice.

The CIT Law and DIR impose a withholding tax of 10% on PRC sourced income derived by a foreign resident without a permanent establishment in the PRC. The SAT has clarified under Guoshuihan [2009] 47 on 23 January 2009 that QFIIs are subject to a 10% PRC withholding tax on dividends and interests that are sourced in the PRC unless tax treaties that the PRC entered into provide for different provisions.

The Ministry of Finance and the SAT have clarified under Caishui [2005] No. 155 that gains derived by QFIIs from the trading of Chinese securities are exempt from business tax. The new PRC business tax reform which came into effect on 1 January 2009 has not changed this exemption treatment at the time of this Memorandum.

Stamp duty at 0.1% applies to the transfer of A Shares and B Shares on the transferor, effective from 19 September 2008, per the notices issued by the PRC tax authorities. This duty may be subject to further changes to be in-line with further state policies.

Non-China resident Shareholders will not be subject to PRC tax on distributions received from the Company, or on gains derived from the disposal of Shares in the Company. The PRC tax resident Shareholders should seek their own tax advice on their tax position with regard to their investment in the Company. There is no assurance that the current practice of taxing the QFII, not the beneficial investors, will not be changed in the future.

At the time any arrangement between the Company and QFII quota provider is agreed, the Company, in consultation with its Auditor, will determine whether or not it should make an accrual relating to a potential PRC tax provision to be included in the Net Asset Valuations calculations.

Repurchase of Shares

Relevant Legal and Regulatory Requirements

The Listing Rules permit the Shareholders to grant to the Directors a general mandate to allow the Company to repurchase the Shares that are listed on the Stock Exchange. Such mandate is required to be given by way of an ordinary resolution passed by the Shareholders in a general meeting.

Shareholder Approval

All proposed repurchases of Shares (which must be fully paid up) must be approved in advance by an ordinary resolution of the Shareholders in a general meeting, either by way of general mandate or by specific approval of a particular transaction.

On 10 December 2010, the Directors were granted a general unconditional mandate to repurchase up to 10% of the aggregate nominal value of the share capital of the Company in issue immediately following the Placing on the Stock Exchange or on any other stock exchange on which the securities of the Company may be listed and which is recognized by the SFC and the Stock Exchange for this purpose. This mandate will expire at the earliest of (i) the conclusion of the Company's next annual general meeting, (ii) the date by which the Company's next annual general meeting is required by applicable laws and the Articles to be held, or (iii) such mandate being revoked or varied by ordinary resolutions of the Shareholders of the Company in a general meeting (the "Relevant Period").

Source of Funds

Repurchase of the Shares listed on the Stock Exchange must be funded by the Company out of its funds legally available for the purpose in accordance with the Articles and the applicable laws of the Cayman Islands. The Company may not repurchase the Shares on the Stock Exchange for consideration other than cash or for settlement otherwise than in accordance with the trading rules of the Stock Exchange. Subject to the foregoing, the Company may make repurchases with funds which would otherwise be available for dividend or distribution or out of an issue of new Shares for the purpose of the repurchase.

Reasons for Repurchases

The Directors believe that it is in the Company and its Shareholders' best interests for the Directors to have general authority to execute repurchases of Shares in the market. Such repurchases may, depending on market conditions and funding arrangements at the time, lead to an enhancement of the Net Asset Value per Share and will only be made where the Directors believe that such repurchases will benefit the Company and its Shareholders.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Funding of Repurchases

In repurchasing Shares, the Company may only apply funds legally available for such purpose in accordance with the Memorandum and Articles and the Listing Rules and the applicable laws of the Cayman Islands.

On the basis of the current financial position of the Company as disclosed in this document and taking into account the current working capital position of the Company, the Directors believe that, if the repurchase mandate were to be exercised in full, it might have a material adverse effect on the working capital and/or the gearing position of the Company as compared with the position disclosed in this document. However, the Directors do not propose to exercise the repurchase mandate to such an extent as would, in the circumstances, have a material adverse effect on the working capital requirements of the Company or the gearing levels which in the opinion of the Directors are from time to time appropriate for the Company.

Share Capital

The exercise in full of the current repurchase mandate, on the basis of 303,000,000 Shares in issue immediately after the Placing, could accordingly result in up to 30,300,000 Shares being repurchased by the Company during the Relevant Period.

General

None of the Directors nor, to the best of their knowledge having made all reasonable enquiries, any of its associates (as defined in the Listing Rules) currently intends to request that the Company repurchase or redeem any of the Shares.

The Directors have undertaken to the Stock Exchange that, so far as the same may be applicable, they will exercise the repurchase mandate in accordance with the Listing Rules, the Articles and any other applicable laws of the Cayman Islands.

If, as a result of any repurchase of the Shares, a Shareholder's proportionate interest in the voting rights of the Company is increased, such increase will be treated as an acquisition for the purposes of the Takeovers Code. Accordingly, a shareholder or a group of shareholders acting in concert could obtain or consolidate control of the Company and become obliged to make a mandatory offer in accordance with rule 26 of the Takeovers Code. The Directors are not aware of any consequences of repurchases which would arise under the Takeovers Code.

No Connected Person as defined by the Listing Rules has notified the Company that he or it has a present intention to sell his repurchase or its Shares to the Company, or has undertaken not to do so, if the repurchase mandate is exercised.

1. Share Capital

1.1 Power to allot and issue

Shares may be allotted or issued in separate classes with different terms, preferences, privileges or special rights including, without limitation, with respect to investment strategy and/or policy, participation in assets, profits and losses of the Company, voting, fees charged, (including management, performance and incentive fees), allocation of costs and expenses (including, without limitation, the costs and expenses incurred in any hedging activities and any profits and losses arising therefrom) as the Directors may determine. The Company is not authorised to issue Shares to bearer.

On or before the allotment of any Share the Directors shall resolve the class and/or series to which such share shall be designated. Each class and/or series shall be specifically identified. The Directors may at any time, and without obtaining the consent of the affected members, re-designate any Share as part of another class and/or series to give effect to applicable provisions of the Offering Memorandum or a resolution of the Directors; provided, that such re-designation does not amount to a variation of the rights attaching to such Shares.

1.2 Power to purchase Shares

Shareholders cannot elect to redeem their Shares.

Subject to the Companies Law and the Listing Rules, the Company has the power to purchase its own Shares (which includes redeemable Shares) provided that the manner of purchase has first been authorised by an ordinary resolution of the Shareholders and comply with the relevant Listing Rules.

2. Consolidation, sub-division and cancellation

The Company may from time to time by ordinary resolution:

- increase its share capital by such sum and with such rights, priorities and privileges annexed thereto, as the resolution shall prescribe;
- consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into Shares of larger amount than its existing Shares;
- cancel any Shares which at the date of the passing of the resolution have not been taken or agreed to be taken; and reduce its share capital or any capital redemption reserve fund.

3. Transfer of Shares

Shares may not be transferred without the prior written approval of the Directors (which may be withheld for any or no reason); provided, that the Directors may waive this requirement to the extent that they deem appropriate in connection with the listing of any class or series of Share on the Stock Exchange. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, and without giving any reason therefor, refuse to register any transfer of any Share to any person that is, in the opinion of the Directors, not (i) an Eligible Investor or (ii) a person of whom the Directors approve.

For the purposes of the Articles, an “Eligible Investor” means a person eligible to hold Shares, as determined from time to time by the Directors.

The Board may also decline to register any transfer of any Share:

- unless a fee of such maximum sum as the Stock Exchange may determine to be payable or such lesser sum as the Board may from time to time require is paid to the Company in respect thereof;
- issued under any share incentive scheme for employees upon which a restriction on transfer imposed thereby still subsists;
- to more than four (4) joint holders;
- which is not fully paid up or on which the Company has a lien;
- if the instrument of transfer is in respect of more than one class of Share; or
- unless, if applicable, the instrument of transfer is duly and properly stamped.

Transfers of Shares may be effected by an instrument of transfer that is consistent with the standard form of transfer as prescribed by the Stock Exchange and approved by the Board. All instruments of transfer must be delivered to the registered office of the Company or such other place as the Board may appoint and all such instruments of transfer shall be retained by the Company.

The instrument of transfer of any Share shall be in writing and shall be executed by or on behalf of the transferor and by or on behalf of the transferee; provided, that the Board may dispense with the execution of the instrument of transfer by the transferee in any case which it thinks fit in its discretion to do so. The instrument of transfer of any Share shall be executed with a manual signature or facsimile signature (which may be machine imprinted or otherwise) by or on behalf of the transferor and transferee; provided, that in the case of execution by facsimile signature by or on behalf of a transferor or transferee, the Board shall have previously been provided with a list of specimen signatures of the authorised signatories of such transferor or transferee and the Board shall be reasonably satisfied that such facsimile signature corresponds to one of those specimen signatures. The transferor shall be deemed to remain the holder of a Share until the name of the transferee is entered in the Register of Members.

4. Disclosure of interests in Shares

The Articles do not contain any provisions relating to the disclosure of interests in Shares.

5. Failure to disclose interests in Shares

The Articles do not contain any provisions relating to the failure to disclose interests in Shares.

6. Redemption of Shares

Shares are not redeemable at the option of members.

7. Member Meetings

The Company will hold a general meeting in each calendar year as its annual general meeting, and shall specify the meeting as such in the notice calling it. The annual general meeting shall be held at such time and place as the Directors shall determine but will always be not more than 15 months (or such longer period as the Stock Exchange may authorise) after the previous annual general meeting. The first annual general meeting must be held within 18 months of the incorporation of the Company.

An annual general meeting shall be called by notice of not less than twenty-one (21) clear days and not less than twenty (20) clear business days and any extraordinary general meeting at which the passing of a Special Resolution is to be considered shall be called by notice of not less than twenty-one (21) clear days and not less than ten (10) clear business days. All other extraordinary general meetings may be called by notice of not less than fourteen (14) clear days and not less than ten (10) clear business days but if permitted by the rules of the Stock Exchange, a general meeting may be called by shorter notice, subject to the Companies Law, if it is so agreed:

- in the case of an annual general meeting, by all the members entitled to attend and vote thereat; and
- in the case of an extraordinary general meeting, by a majority in number of the members having the right to attend and vote at the meeting, being a majority together holding not less than ninety per cent. in Net Asset Value of the Shares giving that right.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

The notice shall specify the time and place of the meeting and particulars of resolutions to be considered at the meeting and, in case of special business, the general nature of the business. The notice convening an annual general meeting shall specify the meeting as such. Notice of every general meeting shall be given to all members other than to such members as, under the provisions of the Articles or the terms of issue of the Shares they hold, are not entitled to receive such notices from the Company, to all persons entitled to a share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy or winding-up of a member and to each of the Directors and the Auditors.

No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum is present. A quorum shall be one or more members (present in person, by proxy or authorised corporate representative, as the case may be) entitled to attend and vote and representing not less than twenty per cent. in Net Asset Value of all of the Shares in issue and carrying the right to vote at the meeting.

The custodian, the Investment Manager, any of their respective connected persons, and each Director and each of the directors of the Investment Manager, are prohibited from voting their own Shares at, or being part of quorum for, for any meeting to the extent that they have or any of their associates has, a material interest in the business to be conducted at such meeting.

A person may, with the consent of the Directors, participate at a general meeting by conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all the persons participating in the meeting can communicate with each other. Participation by a person in a general meeting in this manner is treated as presence in person at that meeting.

If a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting or if during such a meeting a quorum ceases to be present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of members, shall be dissolved and in any other case it shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place or to such other day, time or such other place as the Directors may determine, and if at the adjourned meeting a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting the members present shall be a quorum.

The chairman, if any, of the board of Directors shall preside as chairman at every general meeting of the Company, or if there is no such chairman, or if the chairman shall not be present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for the holding of the meeting, or is unwilling to act, the Directors present shall elect one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

If no Director is willing to act as chairman, or if no Director is present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the members present shall choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

The chairman may, with the consent of a meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting) adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place. When a general meeting is adjourned for thirty days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given as in the case of an original meeting. Otherwise it shall not be necessary to give any such notice.

8. Voting rights

The Directors may issue Shares on terms that they are designated as non-voting or on terms that no matter the number of Shares held by a particular member, such member shall not be entitled to exercise voting rights exceeding such percentage of the total voting rights attributable to all the Shares then in issue as the Directors and such member may agree or as the Directors may determine. Subject thereto and to any rights or restrictions attached to any Shares, on a poll the voting rights attributable to each Share carrying the right to vote on the matter in question shall be calculated by reference to the Net Asset Value per Share (calculated as at the most recent Valuation Date) and not on the basis of one Share, one vote.

A resolution put to the vote of a meeting shall be decided on a poll.

In the case of an equality of votes, the chairman shall not be entitled to a second or casting vote.

Where the Company has knowledge that any member is, under the rules of the Stock Exchange, required to abstain from voting on any particular resolution of the Company or restricted to voting only for or only against any particular resolution of the Company, any votes cast by or on behalf of such member in contravention of such requirement or restriction shall not be counted.

The custodian, the Investment Manager, any of their respective connected persons, and each Director and each of the directors of the Investment Manager, are prohibited from voting their own Shares at, or being part of quorum for, for any meeting to the extent that they have or any of their associates has, a material interest in the business to be conducted at such meeting.

In the case of joint holders of record, the vote of the senior holder that tenders a vote, whether in person or by proxy, shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders. Seniority among joint holders shall be determined by the order in which the names of the holders stand in the Register of Members.

A member of unsound mind, or in respect of which an order has been made by any court or authority having jurisdiction in lunacy, may vote by the member's committee, receiver, curator bonis, or other similar person appointed on such member's behalf by that court or authority and any such committee, receiver, curator bonis or other similar person may vote by proxy.

No person shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting unless such person is registered as a member on the record date for such meeting, nor unless all calls or other monies then payable by such person in respect of such Shares have been paid.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

No objection shall be raised as to the qualification of any voter except at the general meeting or adjourned general meeting at which the vote objected to is purported to be given or tendered and every vote not disallowed at the meeting shall be valid. Any objection made in due time shall be referred to the chairman whose decision shall be final and conclusive.

Votes may be cast either personally or by proxy. A member may appoint more than one proxy or the same proxy under one or more instruments to attend and vote at a meeting

A member holding more than one Share need not cast the votes in respect of its Shares in the same way on any resolution and therefore may vote a Share or some or all such Shares either for or against a resolution and/or abstain (any such abstentions to count neither for nor against the resolution) from voting a Share or some or all of the Shares and, subject to the terms of the instrument appointing it, a proxy appointed under one or more instruments may vote a Share or some or all of the Shares in respect of which such proxy is appointed either for or against a resolution and/or abstain from voting.

Any member of the Company entitled to attend and vote at a meeting of the Company shall be entitled to appoint another person as his proxy to attend and vote instead of him. A member that is the holder of two or more shares may appoint more than one proxy to represent him and vote on his behalf at a general meeting of the Company or at a class meeting. A proxy need not be a member of the Company. In addition, a proxy or proxies representing either a member that is an individual or a member which is a corporation shall be entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of the member which he or they represent as such member could exercise.

The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing, be executed under the hand of the appointor or of his attorney authorised in writing, or if the appointor is a corporation or other non-natural person, under the hand of an officer or other person duly authorised for that purpose.

The Directors may, in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, or in an instrument of proxy sent out by the Company, specify the place and the time (being not later than the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting to which the proxy relates) at which the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited. In the absence of any such direction from the Directors in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited at the registered office of the Company not less than 48 hours before the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting at which the person named in the instrument proposes to vote.

Any corporation or other non-natural person which is a member of the Company may in accordance with its constitutional documents, or in the absence of such provision, by resolution of its directors or other governing body, authorise such person as it thinks fit to act as its representative at any meeting of the Company or of any class of members of the Company and the person so authorised shall be entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of the corporation which he represents as that corporation could exercise if it were an individual member.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

If a clearing house (or its nominee(s)), being a corporation, is a member of the Company it may authorise such person or persons as it thinks fit to act as its representative(s) at any meeting of the Company or at any meeting of any class of members of the Company; provided that, if more than one person is so authorised, the authorisation shall specify the number and class of Shares in respect of which each such person is so authorised. A person so authorised pursuant to this provision shall be deemed to have been duly authorised without further evidence of the facts and be entitled to exercise the same rights and powers on behalf of the clearing house (or its nominee(s)) as if such person was the registered holder of the Shares of the Company held by the clearing house (or its nominee(s))

9. Directors

9.1 Appointment

The Directors may appoint any person to be a Director, either to fill a vacancy or as an additional Director who shall hold office only until the next annual general meeting and shall then be eligible for re-election; provided, that the appointment does not cause the number of Directors to exceed any number fixed by or in accordance with the Articles as the maximum number of Directors

The Company may by ordinary resolution elect any person to be a Director either to fill a casual vacancy or as an addition to the existing Directors.

Any Director (other than an alternate Director) may by written notice to the Company appoint any other Director, or any other person willing to act, to be an alternate Director and by written notice to the Company may remove from office an alternate Director so appointed by the Director.

An alternate Director shall cease to be an alternate Director if such alternate Director's appointor ceases to be a Director.

An alternate Director shall be entitled to receive notice of all meetings of Directors and of meetings of committees of Directors of which such alternate Director's appointor is a member, to attend and vote at every such meeting at which the Director appointing him is not personally present and generally to perform all the functions of his appointor as a Director in such Director's absence.

The Company in general meeting may fix a minimum shareholding required to be held by a Director, but unless and until such a shareholding qualification is fixed a Director shall not be required to hold Shares. No Director shall be required to vacate office or be ineligible for re-election on re-appointment as a Director and no person shall be ineligible for appointment as a Director by reason only of having attained any particular age.

9.4 Remuneration of Directors

The remuneration to be paid to the Directors, if any, shall be such remuneration as the Directors shall determine, and is subject to annual review of the Audit and Remuneration Committee. The Directors shall also be entitled to be paid all travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by them in connection with their attendance at meetings of Directors or committees of Directors, or general meetings of the Company, or separate meetings of the holders of any Class of Shares or debentures of the Company, or otherwise in connection with the business of the Company, or to receive a fixed allowance in respect thereof as may be determined by the Directors, or a combination partly of one such method and partly the other.

The Directors may by resolution approve additional remuneration to any Director for any services other than such Director's ordinary routine work as a Director. Any fees paid to a Director who is also counsel to the Company, or otherwise serves it in a professional capacity, shall be in addition to such Director's remuneration as a Director.

9.5 Directors' interests

A Director may hold any other office or place of profit under the Company (other than the office of Auditor) in conjunction with such Director's office of Director for such period and on such terms as to remuneration and otherwise as the Directors may determine.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

A Director may act alone or by such Director's firm in a professional capacity for the Company and the Director or such Director's firm shall be entitled to remuneration for professional services as if such Director were not a Director or alternate Director.

A Director or alternate Director of the Company may be or become a director or other officer of or otherwise interested in any company promoted by the Company or in which the Company may be interested as shareholder or otherwise, and no such Director or alternate Director shall be accountable to the Company for any remuneration or other benefits received by such Director or alternate Director as a director or officer of, or from such Director or alternate Director's interest in, such other company.

No person shall be disqualified from the office of Director or alternate Director or prevented by such office from contracting with the Company, either as vendor, purchaser or otherwise, nor shall any such contract or any contract or transaction entered into by or on behalf of the Company in which any Director or alternate Director shall be in any way interested be or be liable to be avoided, nor shall any Director or alternate Director so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Company for any profit realised by any such contract or transaction by reason of such Director holding office or of the fiduciary relationship thereby established. A Director (or such Director's alternate Director in such Director's absence) shall be at liberty to vote in respect of any contract or transaction in which such Director is interested; provided that the nature of the interest of any Director or alternate Director in any such contract or transaction shall be disclosed by such Director at or prior to such Director's consideration and any vote thereon.

A Director who to his knowledge is in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in a contract or arrangement or proposed contract or arrangement with the Company shall declare the nature of his interest at the meeting of the Board at which the question of entering into the contract or arrangement is first considered, if he knows his interest then exists, or in any other case at the first meeting of the Board after he knows that he is or has become so interested. For the purposes of this Article, a general Notice to the Board by a Director to the effect that:

- he is a member or officer of a specified company or firm and is to be regarded as interested in any contract or arrangement which may after the date of the Notice be made with that company or firm; or
- he is to be regarded as interested in any contract or arrangement which may after the date of the Notice be made with a specified person that is connected with him;

shall be deemed to be a sufficient declaration of interest under this Article in relation to any such contract or arrangement; provided, that no such Notice shall be effective unless either it is given at a meeting of the Board or the Director takes reasonable steps to secure that it is brought up and read at the next Board meeting after it is given.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

A Director shall not vote (nor be counted in the quorum) on any resolution of the Board approving any contract or arrangement or any other proposal in which he or any of his associates is materially interested, but this prohibition shall not apply to any of the following matters namely:

- any contract or arrangement for the giving to such Director or his associate(s) any security or indemnity in respect of money lent by him or any of his associate(s) or obligations incurred or undertaken by him or any of his associate(s) at the request of or for the benefit of the Company or any of its subsidiaries;
- any contract or arrangement for the giving of any security or indemnity to a third party in respect of a debt or obligation of the Company or any of its subsidiaries for which the Director or his associate(s) has himself/themselves assumed responsibility in whole or in part whether alone or jointly under a guarantee or indemnity or by the giving of security;
- any contract or arrangement concerning an offer of shares or debentures or other securities of or by the Company or any other company which the Company may promote or be interested in for subscription or purchase, where the Director or his associate(s) is/are or is/are to be interested as a participant in the underwriting or sub-underwriting of the offer;
- any contract or arrangement in which the Director or his associate(s) is/are interested in the same manner as other holders of shares or debentures or other securities of the Company by virtue only of his/their interest in shares or debentures or other securities of the Company;
- any contract or arrangement concerning any other company in which the Director or his associate(s) is/are interested only, whether directly or indirectly, as an officer or executive or a shareholder or in which the Director and any of his associates are not in aggregate beneficially interested in five (5%) per cent or more of the issued shares or of the voting rights of any class of shares of such company (or of any third company through which his interest or that of any of his associate is derived); or
- any proposal or arrangement concerning the adoption, modification or operation of a share option scheme, a pension fund or retirement, death or disability benefits scheme or other arrangement which relates both to Directors or his associate(s) and to employees of the Company or of any of its subsidiaries and does not provide in respect of any Director, or his associate(s), as such any privilege or advantage not accorded generally to the class of persons to which such scheme or fund relates.

A company shall be deemed to be a company in which a Director and/or his associate(s) owns five per cent (5%) or more if and so long as (but only if and so long as) he and/or his associates, (either directly or indirectly) are the holders of or beneficially interested in five per cent (5%) or more of any class of the equity share capital of such company or of the voting rights available to members of such company (or of any third company through which his interest or that of any of his associates is derived). For the purpose of this paragraph there shall be disregarded any shares held by a Director or his associate(s) as bare or custodian trustee and in which he or any of them has no beneficial interest, any shares comprised in a trust in which the interest of the Director or his associate(s) is/are in reversion or remainder if and so long as some other person is entitled to receive the income thereof, and any shares comprised in an authorised unit trust scheme in which the Director or his associate(s) is/are interested only as a unit holder.

If any question shall arise at any meeting of the Board as to the materiality of the interest of a Director (other than the chairman of the meeting) or as to the entitlement of any Director (other than such chairman) to vote and such question is not resolved by his voluntarily agreeing to abstain from voting, such question shall be referred to the chairman of the meeting and his ruling in relation to such other Director shall be final and conclusive except in a case where the nature or extent of the interest of the Director concerned as known to such Director has not been fairly disclosed to the Board. If any question as aforesaid shall arise in respect of the chairman of the meeting such question shall be decided by a resolution of the Board (for which purpose such chairman shall not vote thereon) and such resolution shall be final and conclusive except in a case where the nature or extent of the interest of such chairman as known to such chairman has not been fairly disclosed to the Board.

10. Borrowing powers

The Directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow money and to mortgage or charge its undertaking, property and uncalled capital or any part thereof and to issue debentures, debenture stock, mortgages, bonds and other such securities whether outright or as security for any debt, liability or obligation of the Company or of any third party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Directors shall not exercise any such powers specified above in breach of any limits or restrictions specified in this document.

11. Separate Accounts

The Directors have the power to establish and maintain, with respect to Shares of any Class and/or Series, a separate internal account of the Company (each a “Separate Account”), to record (purely as an internal accounting matter) the allocation, on a differentiated basis, of the assets and liabilities of the Company to the holders of Shares of any such Class and/or a Series in a manner consistent with the methodology set forth in this document and the rights otherwise attaching to the Shares.

The proceeds from the issue of Shares of any Class and/or Series shall be applied in the books of the Company to the Separate Account established for Shares of that Class and/or Series. The assets and liabilities and income and expenditure attributable to that Separate Account shall be applied to such Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of the Articles, to no other Separate Account. In the event that the assets of a Separate Account referable to any Class and/or Series are exhausted, any and all rights which any members referable to that Class and/or Series have against the Company shall be extinguished and the members referable to that Class and/or Series shall have no recourse against the assets of any other Separate Account established by the Company.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

Where any asset is derived from another asset (whether cash or otherwise), such derivative asset shall be applied in the books of the Company to the same Separate Account as the asset from which it was derived, and on each revaluation of an asset the increase or diminution in value shall be applied to the same Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of the Articles, to no other Separate Account.

In the case of any asset or liability of the Company which the Directors do not consider is attributable to a particular Separate Account, the Directors shall have discretion to determine the basis upon which any such asset or liability shall be allocated between or among Separate Accounts.

The Directors may, in the books of the Company, allocate assets and liabilities to and from Separate Accounts if, as a result of a creditor proceeding against certain of the assets of the Company or otherwise, a liability would be borne in a different manner from that in which it would have been borne if applied under the foregoing provisions.

The Directors may from time to time transfer, allocate or exchange an asset or liability from one Separate Account to another Separate Account; provided, that at the time of such transfer, allocation or exchange the Directors form the opinion (in good faith) that the value in money or money's worth of each such asset or liability transferred, allocated or exchanged is not significantly less or more than the value in money or money's worth received by the Separate Account from which such asset or liability is transferred, allocated or exchanged.

12. Determination of Net Asset Value

The Net Asset Value and Net Asset Value per Share of each Class and/or Series shall be determined by or on behalf of the Directors as at the relevant Valuation Point on each relevant Valuation Date.

For the purposes of the Articles:

- “Valuation Date” means the last Business Day of each month or such other days as the Directors shall determine in their sole discretion as considered appropriate by the Board, on which the Net Asset Value per Share of that Class and/or Series is calculated
- “Valuation Point” means, with respect to any Class and/or Series, the time or times on the Valuation Date of such Class and/or Series at which the Directors determine that the Net Asset Value per Share of that Class and/or Series shall be calculated

In calculating the Net Asset Value and the Net Asset Value per Share the Directors shall apply such generally accepted accounting principles as they may determine.

The assets and liabilities of the Company shall be valued in accordance with such policies as the Directors may determine. Absent bad faith or manifest error, any valuation made pursuant to the Articles shall be binding on all persons.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

Unless otherwise determined by the Directors in any resolution creating a Class and/or Series of Share or as otherwise disclosed in this document, the Net Asset Value per Share of each Class (or Series) shall be determined by allocating pro rata the Net Asset Value, as at the relevant Valuation Point, of the Company and/or of the relevant Separate Account among each Class and/or Series, adjusting the amount so calculated to reflect any fees, costs, foreign exchange items or other assets or liabilities which are properly attributable to a specific Class and/or Series and then by dividing the resultant amount by the number of Shares of such Class and/or Series then in issue.

The Directors may determine that the Net Asset Value of any Class and/or Series shall be definitively determined on the basis of estimates and that such determination shall not be modified to reflect final valuations.

Any expense or liability may be amortised over such period as the Directors may determine.

The Directors may establish such reserves as they deem reasonably necessary for Company expenses and any other contingent Company assets or liabilities, and may, upon the reversal or release of such reserves, apply any monies resulting therefrom in such manner as they may, in their absolute discretion, determine.

Net Asset Value per Share shall be rounded to the nearest cent or such other amount as the Directors may determine and the benefit of any such roundings may be retained by the Company.

If the liabilities of a Separate Account exceed its assets on a calculation of Net Asset Value on a Valuation Date then the Directors may attribute the amount by which the liabilities exceed the assets between the other Separate Accounts according to the respective Net Asset Value of the other Separate Accounts and treat them as a liability of each such Separate Account.

The Directors may cause the Company to issue new Shares at par or (subject to the Companies Law and the Listing Rules) to compulsorily redeem (for a nominal redemption price to each holder of Shares so redeemed equal to an aggregate amount of HK$1.00 for all the Shares redeemed from such holder) in the aggregate such number of Shares as they consider necessary to address, in such manner as they consider equitable, any prior miscalculation of Net Asset Value or Net Asset Value per Share. The Company shall not be required to pay to the holder the redemption proceeds of any such compulsorily redeemed Shares, which proceeds shall be retained by the Company.

13. Suspensions

The Directors may, from time to time, in the circumstances disclosed in this document, declare a Suspension with respect to any one or more Classes and/or Series of Shares.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

For the purposes of the Articles, a “Suspension” means a determination by the Directors to postpone or suspend (i) the calculation of the Net Asset Value of Shares of any one or more Classes and/or Series and/or (ii) the issue of Shares of any one or more Classes and/or Series.

A Suspension shall take effect on such date and at such time as the Directors shall specify. The Directors shall promptly notify all affected members of any such Suspension and shall promptly notify such members upon termination of such Suspension.

14. Designated Investments

The Directors may, in their discretion, classify certain of the Company’s investments which are deemed by the Directors or the Investment Manager to be illiquid or the value of which is not readily or reliably ascertainable or which may have a relatively long-term investment horizon as “Designated Investments”. Once so classified, Designated Investments shall be represented by a separate Class and/or Series of Shares (a “Designated Investments Class and/or Series”) which, unless otherwise determined by the Directors, shall be allotted only to those members that are holders of Shares at the time of such designation. The gains and losses attributable to Designated Investments shall be segregated and separately calculated and attributed amongst members holding Shares of the relevant Designated Investment Class and/or Series in such manner as the Directors, in their absolute discretion, consider fair and equitable. Shares of any such separate Designated Investments Class and/or Series may be issued by way of bonus or by way of conversion or exchange of all or part of a member’s holding of Shares of another Class and/or Series. Similarly, Shares of a Designated Investment Class and/or Series may be converted or exchanged back into Shares of the original Class and/or Series upon the Directors making a determination that the relevant investment no longer qualifies as a Designated Investment. The power to convert or exchange Shares of one Class and/or Series into Shares of another Class and/or Series may be effected by the Directors in any manner permitted by the Companies Law and the Articles, including the redemption of Shares of one Class and/or Series and the contemporaneous issue and allotment of Shares of the other Class and/or Series (and the payment of the redemption price of such redeemed Shares out of the proceeds of the fresh issue of such issued Shares) or by redesignating a portion of the Shares of any existing Class and/or Series as thereafter belonging to a new Class and/or Series. Shares of a Class or Series of Shares representing Designated Investments shall not, unless the Directors otherwise determine, be redeemable at the option of the members holding such Shares. Where investments are classified as Designated Investments and Shares of a separate Class and/or Series are issued by way of bonus, the requirement of the Articles to ensure proper value is transferred to the Separate Account of the Shares of the original Class and/or Series to which such investments were originally allocated shall not apply.

15. Dividends

Subject to the Companies Law, the Articles, and the special rights attaching to Shares of any Class and/or Series, the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, declare dividends and distributions on Shares of any Class and/or Series in issue. No dividend or distribution shall be paid except out of the realised or unrealised profits of the Company, or out of the share premium account attributable to Shares of the Class and/or Series in respect of which the dividend or distribution is proposed to be paid, or as otherwise permitted by the Companies Law.

Except as otherwise provided by the rights attached to Shares, or as otherwise determined by the Directors, all dividends and distributions in respect of Shares of a particular Class and/or Series shall be declared and paid according to the Net Asset Value of the Shares of the Class and/or Series that a member holds. If any Share is issued on terms providing that it shall rank for dividend or distribution as from a particular date, that Share shall rank for dividend or distribution accordingly.

The Directors may deduct and withhold from any dividend or distribution otherwise payable to any member all sums of money (if any) then payable by it to the Company on account of calls or otherwise or any monies which the Company is obliged by law to pay to any taxing or other authority.

Under no circumstances may the assets (or the income derived from such assets) attributed to a Separate Account in respect of any Class and/or Series be used to pay a dividend in respect of a Separate Account that is attributed to any other Class and/or Series.

The Directors may declare that any dividend or distribution be paid wholly or partly by the distribution of specific assets and in particular of shares, debentures or securities of any other company or in any one or more of such ways and, where any difficulty arises in regard to such distribution, the Directors may settle the same as they think expedient and in particular may issue fractional Shares and fix the value for distribution of such specific assets or any part thereof and may determine that cash payments shall be made to any members upon the basis of the value so fixed in order to adjust the rights of all members and may vest any such specific assets in trustees as may seem expedient to the Directors.

Any dividend, distribution, interest or other monies payable in cash in respect of Shares may be paid by wire transfer to the holder or by cheque or warrant sent through the post directed to the registered address of the holder or, in the case of joint holders, to the registered address of the holder that is first named on the Register of Members or to such person and to such address as such holder or joint holders may in writing direct. Every such cheque or warrant shall (unless the Directors in their sole discretion otherwise determine) be made payable to the order of the person to which it is sent. Any one of two or more joint holders may give effectual receipts for any dividends, bonuses, or other monies payable in respect of the Share held by them as joint holders.

Any dividend or distribution which cannot be paid to a member and/or which remains unclaimed after six months from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution may, in the discretion of the Directors, be paid into a separate account in the Company's name; provided, that the Company shall not be constituted as a trustee in respect of that account and the dividend or distribution shall remain as a debt due to the member. Any dividend or distribution which remains unclaimed after a period of six years from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Company.

No dividend or distribution shall bear interest against the Company.

16. Capitalisation of reserves

The Directors may capitalise any sum standing to the credit of any of the Company's reserve accounts (including share premium account and capital redemption reserve) or any sum standing to the credit of profit and loss account or otherwise available for distribution and to appropriate such sum to members of any Class and/or Series in the proportions in which such sum would have been divisible amongst them had the same been a distribution of profits by way of dividend and to apply such sum on their behalf in paying up in full unissued Shares for allotment and distribution credited as fully paid-up to and amongst them in the proportion aforesaid. In such event the Directors shall do all acts and things required to give effect to such capitalisation, with full power to the Directors to make such provisions as they think fit for the case of Shares becoming distributable in fractions (including provisions whereby the benefit of fractional entitlements accrue to the Company rather than to the members concerned). The Directors may authorise any person to enter into an agreement with the Company, on behalf of all of the members interested, providing for such capitalisation and matters incidental thereto and any agreement made under such authority shall be effective and binding on all concerned.

17. Distribution of assets on liquidation

If the Company shall be wound up the liquidator shall apply the assets of the Company in satisfaction of creditors' claims in such manner and order as such liquidator thinks fit. The liquidator shall in relation to the assets available for distribution among the members make in the books of the Company such transfers thereof to and from Separate Accounts as may be necessary in order that the effective burden of such creditors' claims may be shared among the holders of Shares of different Classes and/or Series in such proportions as the liquidator in such liquidator's absolute discretion may think equitable.

Subject to the special rights attaching to Shares of any Class or Series, the balance shall then be paid to the holders of Shares in proportion to the Net Asset Value of the Shares held, subject to a deduction from those Shares in respect of which there are monies due, of all monies due to the Company for unpaid calls, or otherwise.

If the Company shall be wound up (whether the liquidation is voluntary or by or under the supervision of the Court) the liquidator may, with the authority of a resolution or resolutions passed by the holders of Shares (whether as a whole or at separate Class meetings), divide among the members in kind the whole or any part of the assets of the Company, and whether or not the assets shall consist of property of one kind or shall consist of property of different kinds, and may for such purposes set such value as the liquidator deems fair upon any one or more class or classes of property, and may determine how such division shall be carried out as between the members or different classes of members. The liquidator may, with the like authority, vest any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of members as the liquidator, with the like authority, shall think fit, and the liquidation of the Company may be closed and the Company dissolved, but so that no member shall be compelled to accept any shares or other property in respect of which there is a liability.

18. Untraceable shares

The Company shall have the power to sell, in such manner as the Board thinks fit, any Shares of a member that is untraceable, but no such sale shall be made unless:

- all cheques or warrants in respect of dividends of the Shares in question, being not less than three in total number, for any sum payable in cash to the holder of such Shares in respect of them sent during the relevant period in the manner authorised by the Articles have remained uncashed;
- so far as it is aware at the end of the relevant period, the Company has not at any time during the relevant period received any indication of the existence of the member that is the holder of such Shares or of a person entitled to such Shares by death, bankruptcy or operation of law; and
- the Company, if so required by the rules governing the listing of shares on the Stock Exchange, has given notice to, and caused advertisement in newspapers in accordance with the requirements of, the Stock Exchange to be made of its intention to sell such Shares in the manner required by the Stock Exchange, and a period of three (3) months or such shorter period as may be allowed by the Stock Exchange has elapsed since the date of such advertisement.

For the purpose of the foregoing, the “relevant period” means the period commencing twelve (12) years before the date of publication of the advertisement referred to above and ending at the expiry of the period referred to above.

The net proceeds of the sale will belong to the Company and upon receipt by the Company of such net proceeds it shall become indebted to the former member for an amount equal to such net proceeds. No trust shall be created in respect of such debt and no interest shall be payable in respect of it and the Company shall not be required to account for any money earned from the net proceeds which may be employed in the business of the Company or as it thinks fit. Any such sale shall be valid and effective notwithstanding that the member holding the Shares sold is dead, bankrupt or otherwise under any legal disability or incapacity.

19. Indemnity and insurance

Every Director and officer of the Company (which for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include auditors of the Company), together with every former Director and former officer of the Company (each an “Indemnified Person”) shall be indemnified out of the assets of the Company against any liability, action, proceeding, claim, demand, costs, damages or expenses, including legal expenses, whatsoever which they or any of them may incur as a result of any act or failure to act in carrying out their functions other than such liability (if any) that they may incur by reason of their own actual fraud, wilful default or Gross Negligence. No Indemnified Person shall be liable to the Company for any loss or damage incurred by the Company as a result (whether direct or indirect) of the carrying out of their functions unless that liability arises through the actual fraud, wilful default or Gross

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

Negligence of such Indemnified Person. No person shall be found to have committed actual fraud, wilful default or Gross Negligence under the indemnity provisions unless or until a court of competent jurisdiction shall have made a finding to that effect.

For these purposes, “Gross Negligence”, in relation to a person, means a standard of conduct beyond negligence whereby that person acts with reckless disregard for the consequences of a breach of a duty of care owed to another.

The Directors, on behalf of the Company, may purchase and maintain insurance for the benefit of any Director or other officer of the Company against any liability which, by virtue of any rule of law, would otherwise attach to such person in respect of any negligence, default, breach of duty or breach of trust of which such person may be guilty in relation to the Company.

20. Auditing Policy

The Directors may appoint an Auditor of the Company, which shall hold office on such terms as the Directors determine.

Every Auditor of the Company must be independent of the Company, the Investment Manager and any custodian to the same extent as that required of an auditor under the Companies Ordinance and in accordance with the requirements on independence issue by the Hong Kong institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Every Auditor of the Company shall have a right of access at all times to the books and accounts and vouchers of the Company and shall be entitled to require from the Directors and officers of the Company such information and explanation as may be necessary for the performance of the duties of the Auditor.

Any Auditors of the Company shall, if so required by the Directors or any rules of the Stock Exchange, make a report on the accounts of the Company that will be provided to members before every annual general meeting following their appointment, and at any other time during their term of office, upon request of the Directors or any general meeting of the members.

Subject to the following paragraphs, a printed copy of the Directors’ report, accompanied by the balance sheet and profit and loss account, including every document required by law to be annexed thereto, made up to the end of the applicable financial year and containing a summary of the assets and liabilities of the Company under convenient heads and a statement of income and expenditure, together with a copy of the Auditors’ report, shall be sent to each person entitled thereto at least twenty-one (21) days before the date of the general meeting and at the same time as the notice of annual general meeting and laid before the Company at the annual general meeting; provided, that this provision shall not require a copy of those documents to be sent to any person whose address the Company is not aware of or to more than one of the joint holders of any shares or debentures.

APPENDIX 2 SUMMARY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COMPANY

Subject to due compliance with all applicable Statutes, rules and regulations, including, without limitation, the rules of the Stock Exchange, and to obtaining all necessary consents, if any, required thereunder, the requirements of the preceding paragraph shall be deemed satisfied in relation to any person by sending to the person in any manner not prohibited by the Companies Law, summarised financial statements derived from the Company's annual accounts and the directors' report which shall be in the form and containing the information required by applicable laws and regulations; provided, that any person that is otherwise entitled to the annual financial statements of the Company and the directors' report thereon may, if he so requires by notice in writing served on the Company, demand that the Company sends to him, in addition to summarised financial statements, a complete printed copy of the Company's annual financial statement and the directors' report thereon.

The requirement to send to a person the documents referred to above or a summary financial report in accordance with the preceding paragraph shall be deemed satisfied where, in accordance with all applicable Statutes, rules and regulations, including, without limitation, the rules of the Stock Exchange, the Company publishes copies of the documents and, if applicable, a summary financial report, on the Company's computer network or in any other permitted manner (including by sending any form of electronic communication), and that person has agreed or is deemed to have agreed to treat the publication or receipt of such documents in such manner as discharging the Company's obligation to send to him a copy of such documents.

1. Introduction

The Companies Law is derived, to a large extent, from the older Companies Acts of England, although there are significant differences between the Companies Law and the current Companies Act of England. Set out below is a summary of certain provisions of the Companies Law, although this does not purport to contain all applicable qualifications and exceptions or to be a complete review of all matters of corporate law and taxation which may differ from equivalent provisions in jurisdictions with which interested parties may be more familiar.

2. Incorporation

The Company was incorporated in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company with limited liability on 1 February 2010 under the Companies Law. As such, its operations must be conducted mainly outside the Cayman Islands. The Company is required to file an annual return each year with the Registrar of Companies of the Cayman Islands and pay a fee which is based on the size of its authorised share capital.

3. Share capital

The Companies Law permits a company to issue ordinary shares, preference shares, redeemable shares or any combination thereof.

The Companies Law provides that where a company issues shares at a premium, whether for cash or otherwise, a sum equal to the aggregate amount of the value of the premia on those shares shall be transferred to an account called the “share premium account”. At the option of a company, these provisions may not apply to premia on shares of that company allotted pursuant to any arrangement in consideration of the acquisition or cancellation of shares in any other company and issued at a premium. The Companies Law provides that the share premium account may be applied by a company, subject to the provisions, if any, of its memorandum and articles of association, in such manner as the company may from time to time determine including, but without limitation:

- (a) paying distributions or dividends to members;
- (b) paying up unissued shares of the company to be issued to members as fully paid bonus shares;
- (c) in the redemption and repurchase of shares (subject to the provisions of section 37 of the Companies Law);
- (d) writing-off the preliminary expenses of the company;
- (e) writing-off the expenses of, or the commission paid or discount allowed on, any issue of shares or debentures of the company; and
- (f) providing for the premium payable on redemption or purchase of any shares or debentures of the company.

No distribution or dividend may be paid to members out of the share premium account unless immediately following the date on which the distribution or dividend is proposed to be paid the company will be able to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business.

The Companies Law provides that, subject to confirmation by the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, a company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee and having a share capital may, if so authorised by its articles of association, by special resolution reduce its share capital in any way.

Subject to the detailed provisions of the Companies Law, a company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee and having a share capital may, if so authorised by its articles of association, issue shares which are to be redeemed or are liable to be redeemed at the option of the company or a shareholder. In addition, such a company may, if authorised to do so by its articles of association, purchase its own shares, including any redeemable shares. However, if the articles of association do not authorise the manner of purchase, a company cannot purchase any of its own shares unless the manner of purchase has first been authorised by an ordinary resolution of the company. At no time may a company redeem or purchase its shares unless they are fully paid. A company may not redeem or purchase any of its shares if, as a result of the redemption or purchase, there would no longer be any member of the company holding shares. A payment out of capital by a company for the redemption or purchase of its own shares is not lawful unless immediately following the date on which the payment is proposed to be made, the company shall be able to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business.

There is no statutory restriction in the Cayman Islands on the provision of financial assistance by a company for the purchase of, or subscription for, its own or its holding company's shares. Accordingly, a company may provide financial assistance if the directors of the company consider, in discharging their duties of care and to act in good faith, for a proper purpose and in the interests of the company, that such assistance can properly be given. Such assistance should be on an arm's length basis.

4. Dividends and distributions

With the exception of section 34 of the Companies Law, there are no statutory provisions relating to the payment of dividends. Based upon English case law which is likely to be persuasive in the Cayman Islands in this area, dividends may be paid only out of profits. In addition, section 34 of the Companies Law permits, subject to a solvency test and the provisions, if any, of the company's memorandum and articles of association, the payment of dividends and distributions out of the share premium account (see paragraph 3 above for further details).

5. Shareholders' suits

The Cayman Islands courts can broadly be expected to follow English case law precedents. The rule in Foss v. Harbottle (and the exceptions thereto which permit a minority shareholder to commence a class action against or derivative actions in the name of the company to challenge (a) an act which is ultra vires the company or illegal, (b) an act which constitutes a fraud against the minority where the wrongdoers are themselves in control of the company, or (c) an action which requires a resolution with a qualified (or special) majority which has not been obtained) has been applied and followed by the courts in the Cayman Islands.

6. Protection of minorities

In the case of a company (not being a bank) having a share capital divided into shares, the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands may, on the application of members holding not less than one fifth of the shares of the company in issue, appoint an inspector to examine into the affairs of the company and to report thereon in such manner as the Grand Court shall direct.

Any shareholder of a company may petition the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands which may make a winding up order if the court is of the opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up.

Claims against a company by its shareholders must, as a general rule, be based on the general laws of contract or tort applicable in the Cayman Islands or their individual rights as shareholders as established by the company's memorandum and articles of association.

The English common law rule that the majority will not be permitted to commit a fraud on the minority has been applied and followed by the courts of the Cayman Islands.

7. Disposal of assets

The Companies Law contains no specific restrictions on the powers of directors to dispose of assets of a company. As a matter of general law, in the exercise of those powers, the directors must discharge their duties of care and to act in good faith, for a proper purpose and in the interests of the company.

8. Accounting and auditing requirements

The Companies Law requires that a company shall cause to be kept proper books of account with respect to:

- all sums of money received and expended by the company and the matters in respect of which the receipt and expenditure takes place;
- all sales and purchases of goods by the company; and
- the assets and liabilities of the company.

Proper books of account shall not be deemed to be kept if there are not kept such books as are necessary to give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs and to explain its transactions.

9. Register of members

An exempted company may, subject to the provisions of its articles of association, maintain its principal register of members and any duplicate registers at such locations, whether within or without the Cayman Islands, as its directors may, from time to time, think fit. There is no requirement under the Companies Law for an exempted company to file any list of members with the Registrar of Companies in the Cayman Islands. The names and addresses of the members are, accordingly, not a matter of public record and are not available for public inspection.

10. Inspection of books and records

Members of a company will have no general right under the Companies Law to inspect or obtain copies of the register of members or corporate records of the company. They will, however, have such rights as may be set out in the company's articles of association.

11. Special resolutions

The Companies Law provides that a resolution is a special resolution when it has been passed by a majority of not less than three quarters (or such greater number as may be specified in the articles of association of the company) of such members as, being entitled to do so, vote in person or, where proxies are allowed, by proxy at a general meeting of which notice specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution has been duly given. Written resolutions signed by all the members entitled to vote for the time being of the company may take effect as special resolutions if this is authorised by the articles of association of the company.

12. Subsidiary owning shares in parent

The Companies Law does not prohibit a Cayman Islands company acquiring and holding shares in its parent company provided its objects so permit. The directors of any subsidiary making such acquisition must discharge their duties of care and to act in good faith, for a proper purpose and in the interests of the subsidiary.

13. Mergers and Similar Arrangements

The Companies Law permits mergers and consolidations between Cayman Islands companies and between Cayman Islands companies and non-Cayman Islands companies. For these purposes, (a) "merger" means the merging of two or more constituent companies and the vesting of their undertaking, property and liabilities in one of such companies as the surviving company and (b) a "consolidation" means the combination of two or more constituent companies into a consolidated company and the vesting of the undertaking, property and liabilities of such companies to the consolidated company. In order to effect such a merger or consolidation, the directors of each constituent company must approve a written plan of merger or consolidation, which must then be authorized by either (i) a special resolution of the shareholders of each constituent company voting together as one class if the shares to be issued to each shareholder in the consolidated or surviving company will have the same rights and economic value as the shares held in the relevant constituent company or (ii) a shareholder resolution of each constituent company passed by a majority in number representing 75% in value of the shareholders voting together as one class. The plan of merger or consolidation must be filed with the Registrar of Companies together with a declaration as to the solvency of the consolidated or surviving company, a list of the assets and liabilities of each constituent company and an undertaking that a copy of the certificate of merger or consolidation will be given to the members and creditors of each constituent company and published in the Cayman Islands Gazette. Dissenting shareholders have the right to be paid the fair value of their shares (which, if not agreed between the parties, will be determined by the Cayman Islands court) if they follow the required procedures, subject to certain exceptions. Court approval is not required for a merger or consolidation which is effected in compliance with these statutory procedures.

In addition, there are statutory provisions that facilitate the reconstruction and amalgamation of companies, provided that the arrangement is approved by a majority in number of each class of shareholders and creditors with whom the arrangement is to be made, and who must in addition represent three-fourths in value of each such class of shareholders or creditors, as the case may be, that are present and voting either in person or by proxy at a meeting, or meetings, convened for that purpose. The convening of the meetings and subsequently the arrangement must be sanctioned by the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands. While a dissenting shareholder has the right to express to the court the view that the transaction ought not be approved, the court can be expected to approve the arrangement if it determines that:

- the statutory provisions as to the dual majority vote have been met;
- the shareholders have been fairly represented at the meeting in question;
- the arrangement is such that a businessman would reasonably approve; and

If the arrangement and reconstruction is approved, the dissenting shareholder would have no rights comparable to appraisal rights, which would otherwise ordinarily be available to dissenting shareholders of United States corporations, providing rights to receive payment in cash for the judicially determined value of the shares.

In addition, there are further statutory provisions to the effect that, when a take-over offer is made and accepted by holders of 90.0% of the shares (within four months after the making of the offer), the offeror may, within a two month period, require the holders of the remaining shares to transfer such shares on the terms of the offer. An objection can be made to the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, but this is unlikely to succeed unless there is evidence of fraud, bad faith or collusion.

14. Indemnification

Cayman Islands law does not limit the extent to which a company's articles of association may provide for indemnification of officers and directors, except to the extent any such provision may be held by the Cayman Islands courts to be contrary to public policy (e.g. for purporting to provide indemnification against the consequences of committing a crime).

15. Liquidation

A company is placed in liquidation either by an order of the court or by a special resolution (or, in certain circumstances, an ordinary resolution) of its members. A liquidator is appointed whose duties are to collect the assets of the company (including the amount (if any) due from the contributories (shareholders)), settle the list of creditors and discharge the company's liability to them, rateably if insufficient assets exist to discharge the liabilities in full, and to settle the list of contributories and divide the surplus assets (if any) amongst them in accordance with the rights attaching to the shares.

16. Exchange control

There are no exchange control regulations or currency restrictions in the Cayman Islands.

17. Letter to the Company

Maples and Calder, the Company's legal advisers on Cayman Islands law, have sent to the Company a letter of advice summarising aspects of Cayman Islands company law. This letter, together with a copy of the Companies Law, is available for inspection at the Company's Registered Office. Any person wishing to have a detailed summary of Cayman Islands company law or advice on the differences between it and the laws of any jurisdiction with which he/she is more familiar is recommended to seek independent legal advice.
